The report is devoted chiefly to recommendations for the repeal of many of our naviagiton laws of the last century, which were copied verbatim by the aerliest Congresses from the laws of King George III. The passage of the free-ship bill is again recommended. The repeal of the law exempting from tonnage taxes in our ports vessels coming from ports in which our vessels are exempt from that tax, is strongly recommended. During the seven years of its operation, American vessels have been relieved of about $10,000 taxes in German ports, while we have exempted German vessels of nearly $500,000.

The report also recommends a reduction from 3 cents to 2 cents per ton tonnage tax on vessels from near-by ports. Free shipbuilding materials for American vessels in the coastwise, as well as the foreign trade, is recommended, and the repeal of eighteen sections or statutes relating to minor matters is advised on the ground of their uselessness.

Reports of Riots at Samsoun of the Black Sea-Intimations that the Sultan May Refuse to Yield.

(RECITAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) (REGULAR ASSOCIATION PRESS REPORT) CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 22. — (By Atlantic Cable. Associated Press Copyright, 1895.) The general situation in this country continues to inspire the gravest fears. Telegrams received here rom Marash, late yesterday, apparently considerably delayed by Turkish officials say that American and other missionarles are again in the greatest danger. Advices from Sivas assert that as soon as reinforcements for the Turkish troops arrive the Turkish officials will notify the Armenians that they must surrender all arms and ammunition The Armenians object, as this would place them at the mercy of the Turks. To this the Turks reply that no harm

To this the Turks reply that no narm will be done to them as long as they do not resist the authorities and, if they refuse to give up their arms, they will be forced to do so.

It is asserted that the Turkish officials added that if they are not satisfied that the arms and ammunition will be surrendered, the troops will be ordered to attack the Armenians. Officials of the diplomatic corps point to will be surrendered, the troops will be ordered to attack the Armenians. Officials of the diplomatic corps point to the fact that as the Mussulmans of Sivas are not to be disarmed, the projected measures against the Armenians create danger which may have the gravest consequences. The concentration of Turkish troops at Marash continues as rapidly as possible. The Turkish commander at Marash continues negotiating with the Armenians at Zeitoun, holding out all sorts of promises, for their surrender. But the Armenians have been so frequently deceived that they apprehend a wholsale massacra if they lay down their arms.

The representatives of the powers have notified the Porte that they will not answer for the consequences if the Zeitoun Armenians are massacred. The Armenians in this city intimate a surprise for the Turks is being prepared at Zeitoun, and that a battle which will show that the Armenians are entitled to freedom, or at least self-government, will be fought there. As, however, the Armenians are deficient in artillery, it cannot be expected that they will offer an effective resistence to a regulariyorganized expedition.

The report of the riots at Samsoun, a seaport in Asia-Minor on the Black rganized expedition.

The report of the riots at Samsoun, a seaport in Asia-Minor on the Black sea, have also reached here. The few Armenians there are certain to fare adly if trouble has occurred. Probabl badly if trouble has occurred. Probably the most serious feature of the situa-tion at present is the one resulting from the demand on the representatives of Great Britain, Russia, Italy and Austria made to the Sultan for firmans allowing a passage through the Dardanelles to this city of a second dispatch-boat or small gunboat to be at tached to their respective embassies. B the treaty of Berlin, warships of fo the treaty of Berlin, warships of for-eign nations are not allowed to pass the Dardanelles without permission of the Sultan, and it hitherto has been cus-tomary to allow one small dispatch-boat as a guardship for each of the embassies. Recent rioting and the pre-cautions taken to defend the British and other embassies have shown that the naval forces in the Bosporus are hardly sufficient to cope with serious outbreaks in or about the city. It is intimated at the palace that the Sul-tan may decline to grant the demand of the powers and in that event they may take steps to send additional war-ships here without the permission of the Sultan.

DR. VAN DYCK DEAD.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—News has been received here of the sudden death in Beyrout, Syria, of Rev. Dr. Cornelius in Beyrout, Syria, of Rev. Dr. Cornellus Van Dyck, the translator of the Bible into Arabic, and perhaps the foremost Arabic scholar in the world. Besides the Bible, Dr. Van Dyck translated many other valuable books into Arabic. His last great work was the translation of Gen. Lew Wallace's "Ben Hur" into Arabic. This was completed before his death, but the manuscript is unpublished. The Turkish authorities are trying to obtain possession of the manuscript to destroy it. The result is that the book will not be published for some time, and when it appears it will for many years. He was an expert physician and was engaged in humanitarian work up to a few months before his death. He was born August 13, 1818. His father and mother were Dutch, and he became identified with the Dutch Reformed church. He reached Syria for the first time in the early part of 1840. Many honors were paid Dr. Van Dyck, and he was decorated by the Sultan of Turkey.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—A dispatch to the Daily News from Constantinople says that a large number of Turks were arrested in that city at daybreak. They were hurried to the harbor and placed on board a ship. Their destination and the reason for the arrests cannot be determined at this time.

The correspondent of the Daily News at Constantinople telegraphs that unless the courts which the Sultan has promised to establish in Armenia are carefully supervised, there will be a bloody assize after the massacres. Some of these courts to be established have right of rendering a final decision upon all questions arising, and it is feared that many of the Turks will take advantage of this for the purpose of securing a speedy and sure vengeance, while ostensibly complying with all the forms of the law.

The correspondent also announces that all the foreign papers giving accounts of the revolts of Arabs in the province of Yemen, Arabia, have been forbidden admission to all towns of the Turkish empire.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) NEW YORK, Nov. 22.-The recent withdrawals of gold have reduced the free coin in the treasury here to a lit tle over $33,000,000, and as further with drawals might inconvenience the treasury, the Secretary last night author-ized the sale of United States gold bars to exporters at a premium of one-tenth of 1 per cent. secretary here and the superintendent of the assay office to let exporters have bars at a premium of one-sixteenth of 1 per cent. Accordingly, about $2,500,000 in bars was engaged by 11 o'clock. There was some delay, however, in selling the bars, because the superintendent of the assay office was not instructed to sell the bars at the reduced price, until communication had been had with the treasury office at Washington by telephone.

Baring, Magoun & Co. withdrew $500,000 gold in bars from the assay office through the sub-treasury this morning in accordance with the announcement made yesterday for export tomorrow for account of Kidder, Peabody & Co. of Boston, making a shipment of $1,000,000 for the Boston house. In addition to this sum. W. H. Crossman & Bro. also took $1,000,000 in gold coin from the sub-treasury for shipment tomorrow, making $2,000,000 shipped by that firm this week.

The shipments tomorrow, besides these already mentioned, will include $800,000 by Lazard Freres, which will probably be increased to $1,250,000; $750,000 by Heidelbach, Ickelheimer & Co. and $500,000 by Muller, Schell & Co.

It was a few minutes before ? delock this morning when Rose Brace, employed by Stern & Biers, on the third floor, noticed an odor of smoke. She stepped out into a hallway, saw that the corridors were rapidly filling with smoke, and then gave the alarm. Thirty girls were working in the room. *

Instantly there was confusion. Although every effort, was made to check the frightened girls, several opened the windows and climbed out on the ledges. One of the first to do this was Nelle Turner. She screamed for help and some one on the ground shouted to her to jump. She, however, went to another window where there was a fire escape and climbed out. Those on the street watched her movements with great anxiety. She grasped the escape and swung herself off from the stonal ledge upon which she had stood, and hundreds on the street below cheered her. She commenced to descend. hundreds on the street below cheered her. She commenced to descend. Officer Flaherty was also on the fire-escape, between the first and second stories, and when he saw the girl above him he started up toward her. He was too late. Suddenly she lost her balance and fell. Officer Flaherty tried to catch her, but, could not reach her. She was picked by unconscious.

Olga Keller, an employee of Stern & Biers, ran to the fourth-story window overlooking Van Buren street, threw up the window-sash, climbed out on the ledge, clinging with one hand to the narrow strip of wood on the outside of the sash. She saw a few feet below her a ladder on which two firemen stood and prepared to jump.

"Wait, don't jump!" shouted Capt. Hermanson, who had almost reached the window.

A great volume of smoke poured out of the window, and at times the girl's form was entirely obscured. To hundreds of people watching the seconds seemed like hours. Cheer after cheer went up for Capt. Hermanson as he climbed. He almost reached the window when he heard the girl scream and saw her reel and release her hold on the window-siding. She had been overcome by the smoke and had fallen. Capt. Hermanson braced himself, and as the unconscious form dropped, he

The effort nearly cost him his own life, for he narrowly escaped falling. From hundreds of throats cheers were heard as the brave captain descended the ladder with his human burden. The girl was unconscious, but the physician said she would recover.

By noon the firemen thought the worst of the day's trouble was past. They were mistaken. Shortly before 1 o'clock a large safe on the fifth floor fell to the fourth, carrying it and the third, second and first floors with it. Five men, members of Engine Company No. 2, were working on the second floor, and all were burled beneath the mass of brick, stone and timber. All were killed but Daylel McNally.

After nearly an hour's work the rescuers had opened a passageway-through the pile of debris, and succeeded in getting close enough to where the firemen were buried to assure themselves that Lieut. O'Donnell was alive. He was just able to talk, and it was with great difficulty that his words could be heard. Men who knew him well recognized his voice.

"Is there anyone near you?" one of the rescuers shouted out.

"Yes." came back the answer faintly from O'Donnell.

"How many?"

"Two."

"Alive or dead?"

"Dead. I think."

Gradually the lieutenant's voice became weaker and his reply to the last question was scarcely audible. The rescuers called to him and asked him how seriously he was injured, but he could not make a reply. The fire scon hake

TREASURY CONDITIONS.

nnual Report of Treasurer Morgan The Currency.
(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22,—D. N. Morgan, the Treasurer of the United States, in his annual report on the operations

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—D. N. Morgan, the Treasurer of the United States, in his annual report on the operations and condition of the treasury, says the net ordinary revenues of the government for the fiscal year ended June 20, 1895, were $313,390,075, an increase of $15.668,055, as compared with the year before; net ordinary expenditures, $355,196,298, a decrease of $11,323,981. Including the public debt, the total receipts on all accounts were $720,516,625, and the expenditures $710,472,157. A further sum of $21,157,700 was deposited in the treasury prior to the end of June on account of a purchase of guaranteed coin to maintain the gold reserve, but was not formally covered in, and therefore does not appear in the accounts for the fiscal year.

Aside from the variations in the total stock of gold in the country which are dependent upon the domestic production and consumption as well as the imports and exports of the metal, the most important change now going on in the composition of the money supply arises, the report says, from the gradual retirement of treasury notes of 1890 through their redemption in silver dollars. By this process, which began in August, 1892, and has continued since the total issue of $155,931,002 of these was reduced by September 20, 1895, to $143,686,280. As the reduction began before the original issues in the purchase of silver buillion were discontinued, the amount of the total cost of the purchases was never outstanding at any one time, the highest point ever reached being $153,550,280, on November 14, 1893.

Uncurrent gold and silver coins of the face value of $4,578,647 were transferred during the year from the treasury to the mint for coinage. The loss thereon arising from diminution of weight was $20,1157. Up to the end of September last, $26,730 in Columbian bank notes received for redemption was nearly $87,000,000, of which $35,000,000 fit for circulation was returned to the banks of issue. "In what respect?" asked the re-porter.

"In what respect?" asked the reporter.

"Why, we have made a deficit of $300,000,000 since Grover got in, and borrowed the money to pay it. We are enjoying ourselves, and we are going to let the Republicans do the walking later on. The Republicans paid $2,000,000,000 on the national debt, and I guess they can pay this little $300,000,000 deficit."

"But what has become of the $182,-000,000 in gold which you borrowed?" was asked.

"Well, we put it with the $84,000,000 which we had in the treasury, making $286,000,000 in gold, and we have spent it all but $31,000,000 to pay running expenses. The reception given Debs as he stepped from the train bordered on the francic. Hundreds of men pushed and struggled to get a grasp of his hand. Many of them hugged him and some went to the length of kissing him. Finally he was tossed upon the shoulders of four stal-wart men and, followed by the dense throng that never for an instant stopped its cheers, he was escoried to the nall throng that never for an instant stopped its cheers, he was escorted to the nall, abount one mile distant. The warmth of the reception at the depot was repeated when he entered the hall, with the exception that the men were unable to get close to him and contented themselves with cheering and waving their hats.

Debs said in part:

"Manifestly the spirit of '76 still survives. The fires of liberty and noble aspirations are not yet extinguished. I greet you tonight as lovers of liberty and despisers of despotism. I compre-

"Speaking for myself, personally, I am not certain whether it is an occasion for rejoicing or lamentation. I confess to a serious doubt as to whether this day marks my deliverance from bonds to freedom, or from freedom, to bondage. The speaker gave the history of the events leading up to his arrest and sentence, commenting freely thereon, and, continuing, said:

Reverting to the strike, Debs said:
"It must be borne in mind that the umerican Railway Union did not challenge the government. It threw down no gauntlet to courts or armies, it simply resisted the invasion of the rights of workingmen by corporations. It challenged and defied the power of corporations. Thrice-armed with a just cause, the organization believed that justice would win for labor a notable victory and the records proclaim that its confidence was not misplaced. . Continuing, the speaker said, referring to the famous Supreme Court decision:

"I challenge the world to assign a reason why a judge, under the solemn obligation of an oath to obey the Constitution, should, in a temple dedicated to justice, stab the magna charts of American liberty to death, in the interest of corporations, that labor might be disrobed of its inalienable rights and those who advocated its claims to justice imprisoned as if they were felons."

Debs-gave several reminiscences of his prison life, and, concluding, said: "From such reflections I turn to the practical lessons taught by this 'Liberation day' demonstration. The report of the Finance Committee was received and approved. It had been expected that this might excite some criticism. The committee found, however, that the accounts were in the best of order, but recommended that the fiscal year of the order be made to end on September 30, instead of June 30. This recommendation was approved. The general assembly after some discussion endorsed the boycott of national bank notes ordered by Mr. Sovereign last spring. The use of militia- in the settlement of labor troubles was condemned, and the government ownership of the highways of commerce was advocated. An invitation was issued to all the national and international unions to join the Knights of Labor in a grand labor congress July 4, 1896, with the purpose of harmonizing the organization of labor. Grand Master Workman Sovereign was elected a delegate to the international labor union to meet in London next August, with T. J. O'Reilly of Brooklyn as alternate. Death of John Redfern, Who Invented Tailor-constructed Gowns and from an Underling Became a Big Stock Company.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TIMES.) LONDON, Nov. 22—(Special Dispatch.) John Redfern is dead. This is the man who created, perfected and distributed tailor-made woman. It was in the days immediately after Sedan. The empire had fallen. Paris was temporarily in an eclipse. Nobody wanted to go there. Redfern was an underling in a London dress-making establishment. He saw there was a chance even for London to do something toward restoring and rehabilitating the ruined world of fashion. He decided nothing further in the way of flounces and inflations could be done. And he remembered human nature, and especially feminine na ture, loves to rush from one extrem to the other. So he left the estab-lishment in which he amounted to nothing, and, taking his great idea with him, he opened a small shop in a fashionable part of London.

Soon Redfern had a big shop in Lon-don and a successful branch in Paris. Tailor-made gowns for women be-gan to spread through the world. Parls soon regained its supremacy as a center of fashion, but Redfern never lost his head. He had got most royal highnesses and grand duchesses and the like into his order books, and for certain things he kept them there. He built up a vast business, too vast and too scattered for one man, so Redfern became a stock company, with practic ally independent houses in half a dozer European cities, and in New York, Newport and Chicago. There was ome talk of selling the good will of American branches a few years ago and a London company offered $575,000 for it, but, after some hesitation, the (REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT,) CHICAGO, Nov 22.—A Washington special to the Times-Herald says that the President and Secretary Olney do not expect a reply from the British government to America's representa-tions concerning the Venezuelan bound-ary dispute, and the Monroe doctrine in time to admit of its treatment in In time to admit of its treatment in the President's annual message. It is understood that the British Cabinet is now at work upon the reply, but the meeting of Congress is now so near that it is not likely to be received before the first day of the session. When it comes it will be made the subject of a special message to Congress. There are good reasons for the belief that Salisbury's reply will be of a conciliatory nature, either admitting the boundary dispute to arbitration and thus recognizing the applicability of the Monroe doctrine, or preparing the way for such action later on. So far as Great Britain's reported ultimatum to Venezuela is concerned, the State Department believes no such ultimatum was ever sent.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—A special to the Heraid from Paris says: "You may say I am a possible, in fact, a probable, challenger for the America's cup.' So spoke Sir George Newnes to a correspondent who saw him just after his arrival from London, en route for the Riviera. "'My position is just this: I am per-fectly willing, in fact, very desirous to

The contest between the British Chess Club, of which I am president, and the Manhattan Chess Club, for instance, was carried through in a perfectly satisfactory manner. I have not the slightest doubt that the chess match which I am arranging between representative British and American players for January next will pass off equally satisfactory on both sides.

If Dunraven decides to challenge again for the cup I shall have nothing to say, as I look on the contests for the cup as international, not as a personal matter. I should not think of challenging unless I had the support and backing of the representative yachtsmen of the English mation. Again, if any Englishman who is a representative yachtsman throws down the gauntlet, I shall be quite ready to recognize his prior rights.

"All the same,' continued Sir George," If I do challenge, I hope to give the Americans a good race and good sport. I think we English should have the cup, and, assuming I challenge, I shall take the very best advice that is to be had and turn out the very best boat that can be turned out." CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—An equestrial how was held at Tattersall's tonight and one of the events, the roping and riding of wild cattle by cowboys, turned out to be practically a bull fight.

Some of the cowboys were the worse for liquor and, after teasing a big, longfor liquor and, after teasing a big, long-horned steer until it was nearly maddenied they turned it loose and tried to rope it. Before they succeeded, the steer ripped up a pony in a shocking-manner. Loud cries of indignation came from the spectators and many people left the building. The cowboys were disposed to continue their brutal work, but were prevented, and after much trouble the steer was taken out. The entertainment was under the auspices of the Chicago Hussars, but they had no idea of what the "roping" would result in.

A Pump and Phonograph.

Here is a strange story about a pump and a phonograph, a combination that will strike you as being out of the common run of story-making. And when you have read what follows you will say it is altogether out of the common run of story telling.

A New York firm put up a large

A New York firm put up a large pump for a water company out in California several years ago. It has been in constant use ever since, and has done its work faithfully and well until lately. Something got out of order about it a few weeks ago, and, while it continued to work, its action was not at all satisfactory.

The manager of the water company had it examined by such experts as he could get, but they were not able to decide what the trouble was. They suggested that it had better be taken apart, or that some one should come out from the New York factory to look into the matter.

The manager was not willing, however, to act upon either suggestion. If the pump was taken apart he would lose a great deal of valuable time, and if an expert were sent out from New York it would cost a great deal of money. So he cast about for some other means of getting over the difficulty.

All at once an inspiration came; he money. So he cast about for some other means of getting over the difficulty.

All at once an inspiration came; he would call in the services of a phonograph. If a physician could determine what was the matter with a man's heart by listening to its action through a stethoscope, why might the pump doctor not diagnose its disease by listening to its throbs and pulsations by means of the phonograph?

Acting upon this novel idea, the manager got a phonograph, and spoke into the receiver, describing all the pump's symptoms as clearly as he was able. Then he placed the receiver so that the pulsations of the pump would be recorded on the waxen roll.

The roll was then sent to the firm in New York, and when they had heard its story, reproduced by a phonograph there, they at once discovered where the defect in the pump's action was, and suggested the remedy. The result is that the pump is now running as satisfactorily as when it was brand new.

(San Diego Union:) There is a probability that within a short time another vast tract of land in this State will be divided up into small holdings for settlers. This is the famous Glenn ranch, in the county of that name, which contains many thousand acres. The tendency to break up these large ranches, of which Californians were once so proud, is one of the most hopeful signs. It means that the California of the future is to be thickly dotted with small productive farms—a condition most favorable to prosperity and substantial growth. It indicates, too, that profitable, fruit-growing on small ranches is to take the place of unremunerative wheat-raising on vast areas.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The fact transpired today that the Democratic Steering Committee of the Senate held a meeting in this city of three hours' duration on Wednesday last. The members who were present are very reticent as to what occurred, but it is known that a thorough canvass was made of the Democratic situation with a view of deciding upon a line of policy in the next session. The question of the organization of the Senate was of the organization of the Senate was discussed at length. The committee did not reach a final conclusion on this matter, but when it adjourned there was a general understanding that unless future events should make a change desirable the committee will recommend that the Democrats of the Senate make no move whatever until the Republicans and Populists shall develop their plans.

It appears that the Democratic Sen

abors are divided as to what policy to pursue, some advocating an active effort to retain Democratic control of the Senate, while others advise surrender to the Republicans without a struggle. The "Steering" Committee finally concluded that it would be wise to wait until it was made plain whether the Republicans would be a unit in their desire to take control and whether the Populists would hold the ground or some of them would agree to assist the Republicans. This the committee felt the Democrats could afford to do, in view of the fact that the Senate is a continuing body and the present organization holds until supplanted by another at the will of the Senate. Some of the Democratic Senators considered it very doubtful if the Republicans can get together on a plan of organization. At any rate they do not expect the Republicans to take aggressive steps until after the Utah Senators have come, and shall be edtermined what disposition shall be made of Mr. Dupona's claims to the vacant seat from Delaware.

There are indications that the committee also considered the general question of party policy with reference to legislation which shall be proposed by the Republicans in the Senate and House, and there are reasons for believing that the "steering" committee will recommended a determined effort all along the line to restore Democratic prestige in the country. One plan which probably will be adopted to this end is that of insisting upon a thorough discussion of all questions which may be presented. Members of the committee, therefore, scout the idea of a short session.

MORTON TALKING FOR HIS BOSS ST. LOUIS, Nov. 22.-Hon. J. Sterling

MORTON TALKING FOR HIS BOSS.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 22.—Hon. J. Sterling
Morton, Secretary of Agriculture, spent the day in St. Louis. He arrived nere this morning from the East, and, after breakfasting at the Planters' Hotel, went across the river to East St. Louis, where he inspected the mational stockyards. He returned to the city this afternoon, and this evening he left-for Chicago to visit his sons, who are in business there.

In the course of an interview Secretary Morton said: "Why should President Cleveland be opposed to a thirdterm any more than a bank president?
This is not stating that President Cleveland is a candidate for a third term; as for that, no one knows but himself. The talk of a third term has been confined only to newspapers, and there is no one who can say that he has ever heard Mr. Cleveland give an expression on the subject. I am not in a position to state whether Mr. Cleveland will be a candidate or not.

"There is one thing I can say, however. The management of the government is a business, as is the management of a bank. In a bank the business is entirely confined to the management of finances. If a bank president has proven himself competent and ness is entirely confined to the management of finances. If a bank president has proven himself competent and faithful he is re-elected, not only once or twice, but a dozen times or more. The business of a government is that of managing and preserving the interests of the people of a nation and maintaining life, liberty and property, and if a bank president is elected many times, why should it not be so with the President of the United States?"

MAYOR RADER A CANVASSE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—Plans are being perfected for the work to be done in the East to secure the Repub-

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—Plans are being perfected for the work to be done in the East to secure the Republican National Convention for San Francisco. Next Wednesday the Executive Committee will hold a meeting at which the delegates recently chosen to present San Francisco's claims to the National Committee will be present. Details of the Eastern trip will be discussed, and the delegates will receive full instructions and will be authorized to make definite offers to the National Committee in behalf of this city.

Gen. Chipman will leave for the East on December 2. Gen. R. A. Friedrich will be the first to take his departure. He will go next Monday. There was some talk of sending Gen. Friedrich through the South, as he is from Kentucky, to confer with the Southern committeemen. It was first planned that he should go to New Orleans and then visit as many of the Southern members of the National Committee as he could have time to see prior to the meeting. This plan was changed yesterday afternoon, since Gen. Friedrich believes that he can accomplish more good in another way, and a volunteer has come forward in the person of Mayor Rader of Los Angeles, to make a thorough canvass of the South. Gen. Friedrich will go from here to Salt Lake, where he will confer with the national committeeman from Utah. Col. Trumbo has offered to give him what assistance he may need in that State. From Utah Gen. Friedrich will go to Wyoming to meet the national committeeman from that State. Then he will go to Kentucky, his old home. In speaking of his plans, Gen. Friedrich said:

"Governor-elect Bradley is an old boyhood chum of mine. He is also the national committeeman from Kentucky. If he is not already tied up with a promise to some other city, I am satisfied that he will be for us, and he could, in that case, be of great assistance to us with the other Southern committeeman from the State."

Wendell Easton of the Executive Committee received a telephone message from Mayor Rader of Los Angeles yesterday afternoon, in which the Mayo of opposition on the part of Mr. Henderson's adherents, as also the fact that the speakership is conceded to Mr. Read, who also comes from an Eastern State. Capt. T. H. McKee, of Indiana, secretary of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, and B. Russell of Missouri, are so far the only announced candidates for the office of sergrant-starms. Each has his State delegation behind him, and Russell is understood to be working in conjunction with the McDowell forces. McKee has, however, the advantage of a more extended political acquaintance.

There has been some talk among members from Minnesota of again bringing out Mr. Reed of that State, who was a defeated candidate for this office in the Fifty-first Congress. A Mr. Hartshorn of Iova has also been mentioned in this connection.

The principal candidates for doorkeeper are Glenn of New York and W. L. Tipton of Tennessee. Glenn has been identified with New York State polities for some years and Tipton is the editor of a newspaper at Cleveland, Tenn.

Henry Sherwood so far is the only pronounced candidate for the House postmastership. He halls from Michigan, and was House postmaster during the Forty-third and Forty-seventh Congresses and also postmaster in the city of Washington for four years under President Harrison's appointment. It is considered probable that Ohio msybring out a candidate for either this office or that of doorkeeper.

Of the several candidates for chapplain, six are Washington preachers. They are: Revs. Ramsdell and Easton, Presbyterians; Parsons and Gottwald, Lutherans; Brown and Smith, Baptists. The one outsider in the list is Rev. Mr. Fisher of Kansas.

The patronage of the House consists, outside of clerks of committees and clerks of members, of 195 places, the average of salaries paid being $1125. All the places except those named are filled by appointment.

It may be that a sufficient number of Southern members of the National Committee can be convinced of the desirability of holding the convention in San Francisco to give this city the victory on the first ballot. It is the intention to make a very thorough canvass of the South.

In speaking of the financial situation Wendell Easton said: "All of the subscriptions made through the press have proved good, not a single subscriber hesitating to ratify his subscription as announced by the newspapers. In addition to the amounts thus subscribed, we shall have between $25,000 and $30,000. Mr. Flood, who subscribed $1500 through the newspapers, has raised the amount of $2500. The financial showing is a very gratifying one."

It is believed that a volunteer committee of ten will go East to work for the convention. A small sum of money may be needed for the work in the East, and it is probable that subscribers will be asked to contribute 5 percent. of the amounts opposite their names for this purpose. W. R. Vice, who canvassed the Third District, hes reported that he will have $10,000 in subscriptions, and Henry Fortman and Rudoiph Herold, Jr., will add about $4000 to this sum from their districts.

ST. LOUIS HAS HOPES.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 22.—The Business Men's League of St. Louis this afternoon issued an address to the members of the National Republican Committee notifying them that a committee of twenty-five citizens of this city would attend the meeting at Washington with a guarantee for all expenses connected with the national convention. The league claims to have pledges from two-thirds of the members of the committee, with enough second-choice promises from among San Francisco advocates to secure the convention for St. Louis. The Finance Committee has called a mass-meeting for December 2, when the fund will be completed.

EXPOSED THE TRUTH. EXPOSED THE TRUTH.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—"I wrote only the 'naked truth in my book, and they cannot weaken it if they come by hundreds," said Senator Sherman today, when attention was called to Gen. Alger's letter taking exceptions to the Senator's reflections upon his conduct in the National Republican Convention of 1888. "If Gov. Alger wants to keep the matter stirred up, he can do so; I have nothing to add to what I have already said."

THE CARINIET MEETING.

What are you Democrats doing with the great industries?" asked the reporter.

"Why, we are knocking them out. We've killed the Yankee lace factory at Wilkesbarre, and are buying shiploads of window curtains in Nottinsham. We have shut up a third of the woolen factories in Massachusetts and Rhode Island, and the British, steamers come loaded with woolen cloth from Bradford. Why, last year we shipped 85 per.cent. more woolen goods from England than we did under McKinley in 1892. We Democrats are keeping the woolen mills in Leeds and Manchester going day and night. And see what we are doing for our sheep at home. The slaughter-houses of Kansas City and Omaha are killing millions of sheep from New Mexico and Wyoming dally. And wool! Did not our grasping farmers use to get 35 cents for it under McKinley, and now we are sending gold to Australia and buying Swan River and Van Dieman's Land wool for 10 and 15 cents. I tell you, we Democrats are running things wild. We have to, for we know you Republicans are coming with the Keeley cure in '98." THE CABINET MEETING. WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The regular Friday Cabinet meeting today was attended by all members but Secretary attended by all members but Secretary Morton. The President was driven into town from Woodley by Mrs. Cleveland. He has been engrossed by his annual message to Congress for some time, and it is believed that this, with the matters to be included in the reports of the Cabinet officers and the state of the finances, formed the topics discussed at the meeting.

There are from two to seven candidates for each of these places, the highest being in the race for chaplain.

There are only two candidates for the House cierkship. They are ex-Congressman Thomas. Henderson of Illinois, and ex-Congressman Alex McDowell of Pennsylvania. Mr. Manderson failed of renomination last year. Mr. McDowell began his canvass a year ago, as soon as it became apparent that the Republicans would have the House.

MASSIE DIES.

let of His Wife. (REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.-William Massie died in the Receiving Hospital today, and an hour later, his young widow, who fired the shot that caused the death, was booked for murder at the City Prison.

There are two versions of the killing. One was furnished by the de-ceased, and the other by the prisoner. At 11 o'clock last night it became ap-parent to the attending physicians that Massie would die. They notified the police, and a detective took the expiring man's ante-mortem statement. He said that he was a baggage-master of the Los Angeles division of the South-ern Pacific. He returned to his home ern Pacific. He returned to his home at No. 853½ Folsom street last night and went to the dining-room. A pistol he carried was out of order and he attempted to repair it, but failed, and his wife took it up, and while handling it the weapon went off and indicted the mortal wound. He denied that he had ever abused his wife, and said he had always shown her the greatest kindness and consideration.

Mrs. Massie tells an entirely different story. She says her husband came in the house and immediately started in to abuse her. He drew two pistols from his pocket. He placed one on the table, grasped her by the arm, put the other upon her breast and threatened to fill her full of lead. She struggled and by an adroit movement, wrenched the pistol from his grasp, turned it on him and fired. The ball took effect in the left jaw and ranged downward, lodging in the spinal column, producing a wound that paralyzed the lower part of the body.

After the shooting Mrs. Massie ran out in the street and surrendered herself to Police Officer Hurley, who took her to the City Prison. The wounded man was taken to the Receiving Hospital for treatment. The Massies were married about three years ago. According to the stories of those who pretend to know, their experience was not a happy one, and frequent quarrels resulted. A child was born sixteen months ago, who is being cared for by a friend of the mother. Massie's body was removed from the hospital to the morgue. An autopsy will probably be held tomorrow.

THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

of-Charities Idea. (REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) SACRAMENTO, Nov. 22.—A majority of the directors of the State Insane Asylums attended the State Board of Examiners today, five asylums for the insane being represented. The Governor said that he found from an examination of the reports of the Stock ton and Napa asylums that there were ton and Napa asylums that there were harbored in the asylums a great maney patients who were harmless, such as simpletons and fools, and who should be maintained elsewhere. The impression produced abroad was that insanity was unduly prevalent in this State.

The Governor said that, according to the reports, there were 200 patients in the Napa asylum who could not be admitted under the law, and should not be there. There were in the Stockton asylum 201 patients who are harmless and should not be enrolled among the actually insane.

"I have been informed of cases," said the Governor, "where inmates with the Governor, "where inmates with wealthy relatives, are maintained in the State asylums without any money being paid to the State for their support.

The Governor instanced a case in San Francisco, where a person whose folks were worth $50,000, was kept in the asylum without pay, contrary to law. Gov. Budd made the declaration that right in Stockton he could find scorea of people on the streets and elsewhere who were no less insane than could be found inside the asylum. It was simply a matter of favoritism that these inside were fed and clothed.

Senator Seawell of Mendocino, through whose legislative bill the Mendocino asylum was established, said it made no difference whether they contributed to the support of imbeciles in State asylums or maintained them themselves. He did not believe the people of the State shared in the demand of the Governor to expel this class of patients from the asylums.

Gov. Budd rather warmly replied that if these people belong in an almshouse they should be so designated, and the asylums should not be permitted to draw money for their support under a guise.

Joseph Steffens of this city, a director port."

The Governor instanced a case in San Francisco, where a person whose folks were worth $50,000, was kept in the conference, that the superintendent of insane asylums should discharge from the asylums all patients who may be discharged. The sense of the committee was further that if the superintendents did not have that power, laws should be passed granting them such power. The resolution was unanimously adopted.

Gov. Budd then brought up the matter of the inequality of the wages paid attaches at the asylums. Napa paid its engineer $1500 a year, and Stockton its engineer $1500 a year, and Stockton its engineer $1500 a year. Plumbers are regularly employed at Stockton and not elsewhere. Stockton maintains a general mechanic at a good salary, who, when he is not fixing locks and keys, turns his attention to sewing sheets.

Secretary Brown called attention to the fact that the assistant physician at Stockton received $2500, and the assistants at Napa $1800.

Director O'Connor of Mendocino stated that they kept a steward clerk down there who was purely ornamental. Other directors said the secretaries of the boards received $50 a month for doing nothing.

The conclusion of the conference resulted in the agreement that a committee of five be appointed, one trustee from each asylum, the committee to act with the State Board of Examiners in framing a proper law and also to provide for a uniform system in the management of all the asylums.

Mrs. Annie Spencer, occupying the flat in which the Beckmans lived, found Beckman in a corridor calling, "some one has killed my wife." Opening the door, Beckman pointed to his wife lying dead on the bed, her clothes torn and her neck bruised. Under the bed was a towel wound and twisted, showing it had been used to strangle the woman. Strangled His Wife for Coin.

A Belligerent State Secretary, A Belligerent State Secretary.

LOUISVILLE, (Ky.,) Nov. 22.—A special from Georgetown, Ky., says that Secretary of State John W. Headley created a small panic in the courtroom there this afternoon by attempting to stab Attorney John Brand. The men were on opposite sides of a case for trial and quarreled.

After a little exchange of words Headley suddenly drew a knife and made several rapid motions not provided for in the briefs. Brand did a bit of clever dodging and escaped unhurt. Court attaches disarmed the belligerent Secretary of State and the case went on.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT) ears, thinks that the estimate is no years, thinks that the estimate is not too high. The bulk of the sugar property in Santa Clara is owned by foreign capital. The Spanish holders are in the minority. The Cuban owners hold more than the Spaniards.

Such great estates as the Caracas and Los Hermanos are owned by Cubans. The first mentioned, claimed to be the largest in the world, belongs to the manager.

Those are in the Cienfuegos district and represent value in good times of $7,000,000. In Trinidad there is the great property owned by the Havemeyers of New York. In the Sagua district are the George. Thorndyke estate, those of Hemingway of Boston, and Santa Ana and the St. George. The Victoria estate is an American property and Parkins & Walsh of New York control a large sugar estate. The value of the American interests in Sagua is about $2,700,000 in good times.

In Puerto Principe province Americans hold sugar estates worth nearly $1,000,000, and in Matanzas province the Madden, the Terry and the Heydiger properties are very valuable. The owner of one, after a brave struggle, is about to abandon fields representing the toil of many years. Many of the American sugar properties on the island will be forced into bankruptey if they are not permitted to make a crop the coming winter.

A BLACK PROSPECT.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—A special to the Herald from Santiago de Cuba says that rumors have been current in that city for months regarding jealousy and friction in the ranks of the insurgents, the blacks being intensely jealous of the whites. Much of this has appeared in print, the whites openly stating that where they were in the minority they were ignored and badly treated; that the elder Maceo, now 65 years old, was very suspicious, and that he has surrounded himself with a chosen band of blacks.

Maceo is the chief of the Antillian League, an order of blacks, part secret and part open, while his pledged to black domination in the West indies. About seventy men form his bodyguard. Owing to friction and jealousles many whites have left the rebel ranks and have surrendered to Campos, who has pardoned and released them.

The late Jose Marti was the acknowledged leader of the white section of the rebels. He was the chief organizer of the present movement. His death, it was said, was due to a careless charge made on a body of Spanish roops. It now seems that Marti was not shot by the Spanlards, but by some of Gen. Maceo's bodyguard, and that their action was in keeping with their chief's expressed wishes. This information cames directly from the insurgent ranks to a gentleman in this city. At first it was kept quiet, but now is an open secret.

DARK OUTLOOK FOR AMERICAN SUGAR-PLANTERS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22—A special dispatch to the World from Havana says that American-owned sugar property in Cuba, worth $20,000,000, is jeopardized by Gen. AROUND THE OIL WELLS.

New Wells Being Drilled and Improvements Made.

Burdett Chandler will have an 500-barrel tank erected at his Beaudry-avenue well today. A fifty-barrel sandsettling tank will be built shortly.

John Bophs began the erection of a drilling rig at his new well-site on Victor street, near Temple, yesterday.

It is said that about thirty houses in the oil district are being supplied with natural gas for heating purposes from several oil wells.

The Young, Beach & Cochrane well, on Victor near Temple, turned out about 150 barrels in the first twenty-two hours of pumping, up to 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Edward North reached second off-bearing sand at a depth of about 775 feet, yesterday afternoon.

The casing in the Ferguson & Canfield well on Temple near Victor was pulled yesterday, in order to enlarge the hole. The well is now down about 750 feet, and will be deepened.

The Loma Oil Company's well at Figueroa and Temple is down about 500 feet. The company finished putting 600 feet of 9%-inch casing in the well on Figueroa near Temple. This is the longest string of such large casing in the oil district. The well at West State and Toluca, now down about 1050 feet, will be deepened.

The Doheny-Connor well on Figueroa near Temple is down about 200 feet.

The Doheny-Connor well on Figueroa near Temple is down about 200 feet.

The Doheny-Connor well on Metcalfe is down about 355 feet. The drill is now in second oil-bearing sand. Only a trace of oil was found in the first sand. The Bell Rock Oil Company's pumping plant, northwest of West First street and Belmont, was repaired yesterday, and will resume work today.

In Chicago the same notion seems to have prevailed. There a demonstra-tion was also held, with Debs himself as the stellar attraction. The courts of justice, of course, came in for a liberal share of denunciation, and all the established agencies of civilization were sat down upon with more or less

The laboring men of the country-of whom but an insignificant proportion belong to labor or ganizations-have no worse enemy completed a six-months' sentence in jail for contempt of court. His punish ment has been ridiculously light considering the gravity of his crimes. He was the arch-conspirator, "the head and front of the offending." The offense of Clune, Ross and Stanwood, whose sentence to eighteen months' imprisonment has just been confirmed by the Supreme Court of the United ates, was trifling as compared to that of Debs, which cost thousands of laboring men their positions, and resulted in the loss of several lives. The fact that Debs escaped with only months' imprisonment is a striking illustration of the miscarriage of justice. The fact that "organized" labor celebrates his release from jail indicates in a striking manner the extent of its de

"Pullman didn't dare to arbitrate with his employees, for to do so was to expose the actual condition of affairs in Pullman. No strike was ordered by the Central A.R.U. A convention of railroad men determined to strike and then the local branches, all over the country, followed suit. We recognize in Eugene V. Debs our best friend. Three of our brothers, Stanwood, Ross and Clune, are about to enter on an eighteen-months' vacation. We ask you to assist us so that when we present a petition it will be so strong that the president dare not refuse a pardon.

Stanwood, one of the three "vacationists" referred to by Mr. Dahl, spoke and made the startling comparison, "you probably remember that Jesus Christ went to jall, too." The speaker said further that labor leaders used to sell out to capital and go to Europe. Now they go to jall.

Edward Hutchinson said that every reformer from Jesus Christ to Eugene Debs had been abused and misquoted. The speaker pleased the audience with some distorted scripture. "It was Christ who said, "When thine enemy strikes thee on thy left cheek and closes the eye on that side, it is wise to turn the right cheek toward him and not have him on thy right side, and when thine enemy takes thy coat, take off thy weskit and give it to him with all thy might. (Stockton Independent:) Railroad promoters keep Stockton people guessing nowadays. Three new railroads starting from Stockton are now in course of construction, and several other propositions are under consideration. Nothing but the winding up of all things earthly can stop the quick growth of Stockton to prominence as the "Chicago of the West."

(San Diego Union) As usual the

They will not compete however, to any very alarming extent, with the Southern California crop. The latter will not begin to go to market for some weeks yet, and, besides, the entire northern output is only a matter of seventy-five or '100 carloads, about what the southern counties ship in a single day during the season.

(Woodland Mail:) Again has it been demonstrated that Southern California is much better advertised in the Eastern and Middle States than is the northern portion. A number of colonists departed from Chicago on the 15th, their point of destination being Sacramento.

Plumber Armstrong was emphatic, violent and incoherent. "We seem to be unable to do anything; if we were, these men would never go inside prison walls. Clerk Holman thought the laboringman's woes are due partly to bød laws, for which the people at large were just as much to blame as the lawmakers. Carpenter Balley read a lot of extracts from the United States Constitution and told what he thought they meant. "The name of the judge who sentenced Eugene V. Debs will either make a dark blot in American history or will be spoken only with contempt. I believe Eugene V. Debs would.make a good President. He has been tried and found all right, and would lead us into the promised land."

L. D. Becktel expressed it as his opinion that the A.R. U. were making a mistake in abusing the courts. "We made the laws and elected officers to execute them, and the laws themselves, if anything, should be attacked."

W. C. Bowman thought there would be no hope for the American people until a man was taken from the ranks of labor and placed in the White House.

(San Diego Union:) Although Lower California may be said to be right at the door of the southern counties of this State, few persons here realize the progress which the peninsular province of Mexico is making, and how important that progress is to this section. Lower California is known chiefly as a mining country. Its agricultural development, however, promises to play a very important part in its trade with San Diego. The wheat crop of the peninsula this season was the largest in its history, and preparations are now being made to double the product next year. The Mexican Land Colonization Company is putting in 3000 acres in one valley, and Charles Bennett will put in upwards of 10,000 acres. The early rains almost insure a heavy harvest. All the machinery and supplies for this work will be provided by San Diego, and this will insure a very material increase of the trade of this port.

A London cablegram says John Redfern, the and this will insure a very material increase of the trade of this port.

(Nogales Oasis:) A prominent El Paso man returned from the State of Guerrero recently, with a not very high opinion of the insect population of the country. There has developed a new species of the insectivora down there, a small, minute affair that burrows in under the skin, and causes intense itching, somewhat analogous to the "itch" of more northern climes. There are no serious results, only the insect seems to feed on the coloring matter in the skin, leaving a circular white space where it has been burrowing. This gives the party afflicted the appearance of having leprosy, and many of the natives in Guerrero are thus covered with white spots. The El Paso man's legs look as though they had been spattered with white paint, and he declares with more or less emphatic unetton that nothing could induce him to live in that country.

The children of the public schools did themselves great credit yesterday, when nearly forty wagon-loads of provision and clothing were contributed by them as Thanksgiving gifts to the poor of Los Angeles. Such demonstrations of benevolence make the best methods of kindling and planting charitable feelings in the minds and hearts of the future men and women of our city.

A "hurry" call should be sent for the fool-killer. He should be armed with an 1800-shot-per-minute gatling gun and sent to the Silver Gate. Some of the dreamers in that city are circulating the report industriously that opposition to the Upper Otay water proposition, which the City Council is struggling to put before the people for a vote, is being fostered by Los Angeles people because they fear that if San Diego acquires her own water system that city will become so attractive as to allure people away from Los Angeles. The fertility of imagination possessed by some Silver Gaters is as as tonishing as it is laughable.

The human race is possessed with a desire to do something it is told not to and to experiment with possible consequences. Yesterday an afternoon paper announced that a flat had gone forth warning the street-car companies that the first motorman who ran his car faster than the regulation eight miles an hour, would be arrested, and adding that the cars of the Pasadena and Pacific line, and those of the Trac-tion Company, would be under especial surveillance by the police. Last even-ing, standing room was apparently at a premium on the cars of the Traction Company, but whether from a desire or the part of the public to be present at any possible hold-up by the police, or because people thought their chances of a speedy homeward journey were better on cars running at an illegal rate of speed, did not appear.

BULL BUTTER.

THIS CITY.

Carlend Received not Long Age and More Than a Ton of it Con-signed Here During the Past Week-Dairymen's Action.

Most of the oleomargarine which comes into this city, it appears, is either reshipped to out-of-town points or else is sold for use in bakeries. Very little of the compound, it is said, finds its way to the private tables or to the tables at restaurants.

The enactment of a law at the last session of the legislature prohibiting session of session of the legislature prohibiting the use of coloring matter in any such imitation butter compound seems to have had the effect of at least temporarily preventing further sale of the stuff. From April 1 last to October 1, it is said that no oleomargarine was brought into Los Angeles. This was in part probably due to the fact that during that period, senuine butter sold at a low price.

The best creamery butter is reported to have sold at wholesale during that titme as iow as 12% cents per pound. The cost of the oleomargarine at wholesale is about 16 or 17 cents and so the dealers could not afford to handle it.

Those who are in a position to know asy, however, that the new law has no doubt greatly restricted consumption. A large establishment at San Bandifacture, which the compound we before the law went into effect on the compound we before the law went into effect months previous to March 1 last, a reliable estimate has it that more than 300,000 pounds of imitation butter was sold in and about this city. When the new law went into effect the business ceased for a few months, as above stated, but the higher price at which genuine butter now sells has opened a market for the imitation article here again.

Not long ago a carload of it was received and during the past week a consignment of 2500 pounds reached this city. Most of it that is brought here is said to be sold for use in camps and bakeries. The restaurant-keepers do not use it for the reason that the absence of coloring matter, as required by the State law, causes the compound to be so much whiter than genuine butter that the difference is apparent.

It is required by law that the compound shall be kept in marked packages and shall not be sold as butterine, or the state law marked packages and shall not be sold as not restaurant there must at the same time be placed on the table before the person ordering the food a card plainly showing that the article served is imitation butter. The table was handsomely decorated with a bowl of golden yellow chrysanthemums in the center, and trails of smilax scattered over the cloth. A huge wedding cake was placed at either end. Masses of yellow and white chrysanthemums and palms were arranged about the dining-pom and parlor, and the hall was bright with scarlet geraniums and vines. A large number of gifts were received. Mr. and Mrs. McIlmoil, who have nine living children, both look wonderfully young and well, and seem more likely to live to celebrate their diamond wedding, than most people to celebrate their golden. Wagonloads of Good Cheer for Thanksgiving Day.

Yesterday in the city schools was largely devoted to taking care of the gifts, contributed by school children for the use of the Associated Charities on Thanksgiving day. Appropriate exercises were held in a number of the schools, and not one, even of the smallest, failed in having a stock of goods when the big express wagons called for the donations.

Arrangements were made to store the various articles in a vacant storeroom on Temple and New High streets, and during the afternoon the attendants, who were all volunteers, were kept busy assorting and arranging the wagon loads of gifts as they arrived from the various schools. The number of wagon loads contributed by each school is shown in the following list:

Other donations are invited from the charitably inclined, to be used for the same purpose as the gifts of the school children.

The Board of Public Works met yesterday morning and considered the petition from Mrs. F. A. The board decided to recommend that petitions for the franchise be advertised, though the petitioner now owns a franchise for a street railway on a portion of the route specified. The point may be raised that none but the petitioner can bid for the franchise, as she has already the possession of the street for railway purposes. Coroner Campbell Indicted by the Grand Jury.

Dr. George W. Campbell, the Coroner

The Los Angeles Cemetery Association yesterday filed with the City Cierk the following communication, which is self-explanatory:

"To the Mayor and Council of the City Cierk that are alleged to have been unjusticated by the control of the council of the Los Angeles: At a regular meeting of the board of trustees of the Los Angeles Cemetery Association, held this day, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, the conveyance to the city of Los Angeles of ground for a potter's field devolved on this association of superintending the burials therein, nor of management of the same in any manner whatsoever, and, whereas, the employment of this association in the matter of such burials

Dr. George W. Campbell, the Coroner, is the last victim of the grand inquistion of the grand inquistion of the grand inquistion that are alleged to have been unjusticated by the charge of burglary. James Noon yesterday pleaded not guilty to the charge of rape. He will plead on November 28.

The grand jury reported in Department One at 4 p.m., and presented four indicatements, the first an amended indictments, the first an amended in dictment against George Braby, who is now in jail. The only difference between this and the first indictment in the last victim of the grand inquistion of the charge of burglary.

James Noon yesterday pleaded not guity to the charge of neating that are alleged to have been unjustication. The charge of purity in having sworn to claims that are alleged to have been unjustication. The charge of burglary is the charge of burglary.

The grand jury reported in Department One at 4 p.m., and presented four ment One on the charge of rape. He will plead on November 28.

The trial of Gertrude Greiner for grand in Department One at 4 p.m., and presented four ment One on the charge of part will be and in the last victim of the grand in Department One on the charge of part will be an one of the same of the same of the date of the suity to the charge of the will plead on November 28.

The trial of Series were against Frank W. Cherry, the Police Court stenographer, accused of perjury, and they contain simply additional charges on the same count. This makes six indictments now out against the luckless reporter.

The most important accusation of the grand jury was against Dr. Campbell, for whom a bench warrant was at once issued, with the bond fixed at $1000. The Coroner was down in the Sheriff's office at the time, serving some papers in an inquest, and Deputy Sheriff Marsh simply walked down and arrested him without any stir or bother. Dr. Campbell readily accompanied Mr. Marsh to Department One, where three men stood ready to go on his bond. The ball was given at once, the bondsmen being Rev. E. S. Chase, pastor of the Methodist Church at Boyle Heights, Councilman E. L. Blanchard and L. Powers, of the firm of Powers & Young.

The Coroner seemed rather indignant than uneasy at the position in which he has been placed. He declares his ability to satisfactorily explain the whole matter, and says that he would at any time have explained the situation if he had been invited by the grand jury to matter, and says that he would at any time have explained the situation if he had been invited by the grand jury to do so.

The whole matter hinges upon the right of the Coroner to hold an linquest without a jury. The law provides that inquests with juries shall be held over the bodies of suicides, those murdered and those who meet death under circumstances of a criminal nature.

The Coroner is entitled to charge a fee of $10 for each inquest. Some time ago the Board of Supervisors made an arrangement by which Dr. Campbell was to be allowed $5 for each inquest held without a jury, and $10 for the regular jury inquests. Of late, he has been putting in a claim of $10 for each inquest, and he is now accused by the grand jury of swearing to claims that were not justifiable by law.

The District Attorney is of the opinion that Dr. Campbell is entitled to a $10 fee or nothing. If an inquest is legally held, that is the regular fee; if the inquest is illegal, it is no inquest. It is a confusion of ideas as to the class of cases upon which an inquest should be held, and whether or not a jury is indispensible. There seems to be no evidence of criminal intention upon the part of the Coroner in making out the statement of his fees.

Dr. Campbell shows a record of 154 cases where a jury was required by law. The total expense was $2556, or an average of $16.60 to each case. In six-ty-three other cases he used his own discretion in dispensing with a jury, and reduced the average to $12.66, or a total of $760 for the sixty-three cases. In this statement every expense was jn-cluded, except mileage, which is the Hon. Robert N. Bulla, the shorter papers being by Judge J. W. McKinley and Frank A. Gibson.

Mr. Bulla's offering was a strong, thoughtful, able document, in which he reverted to many of the difficulties under which the honest and well-meaning legislator labors, and showed that, as disreputable as are a few of the legislature's personnel, it is as body, which is entitled to more dignified consideration than it receives from the people of the State, and particularly from the press. He demonstrated clearly that the great volume of bills poured out by the members during a session. clearly that the great volume of bills poured out by the members during a session of sixty days could scarcely be adequately considered in as many months, and gave voice to the sentiment that more ill-advised measures are passed because of lack of time and lack of ability than because of dishonesty or corruption. The other papers followed in much the same vein, with suggestions as to a commission or account. followed in much the same vein, with suggestions as to a commission on appropriations, thus relieving the Legislature from much labor in those regards, and that United States Senators should be elected by popular vote, thus removing the cause of the election of a few undesirable members to the State Senate and lower house.

Upon conclusion of the regular papers a general discussion was had, covering the ground from the party caucus to revision of the constitution, and many reforms in both were suggested.

The services were attended by more than fifty employes of Jacoby Bros., of than fifty employes of Jacoby Bros., of which firm the deceased was a member. The Pistol Didn't Work and the Starter Threw it Away-Schmid Gets a Prize-A New Kind of Race-Much Fun.

Yesterday was another good day of cycle racing at Athietic Park, and to-day will be still better. Bald, the champion, took his first fall of the year, and yet won fourth in an exciting half-mile. Our own Ulbricht, the "Flying Dutchman," did himself proud in his trial heat of the half-mile open, beating Murphy of New York and Wells of San Francisco, in spite of their best efforts.

Godfrey Schmidt won a second prize yesterday in the five-mile handleap. This is his second second prize since joining class B, and these are the only prizes he has won this year. Schmidt has lots of speed, but seems to always get pocketed, through poor generalship.

The handicap race would have been the feature of the day if the Eastern men had ridden; but they considered it a forlorn hope to ride from scratch with such men as Lacy, at 350 yards, and so it was limited to local men, except Campbell of Spokane, and Wells of San Francisco. Ulbricht at 100 yards, was the back mark man, with Wells at 150 and Campbell at 250 yards. Ulbricht caught Wells and the two were bunched a half lap ahead. Finally Wells dropped out and Ulbricht siowed up for the bunch. As the ref-

"Little Knip" yelled out, "Don't you know I'm cold." That settled it, the crowd roared, and the race went off without instructions.

Starter Knippenberg had lots of amusement with the various guns used to announce the standing starts, and he

Murphy was better pleased with the mile post race than he could express, as he considered it in many ways as his best race of the year. It was really four quarter-mile races run together, and he captured all four. As there were $50 diamonds for each lap, he

It is also unpaced record for Southern California. McCreapressed Murphy hard all the way, and even beat Bald for second place on the first lap. Bald broke his saddle on the second lap, or the result would have been different. The Revival Meetings

The Revival Meetings.

A much larger audience than had assembled for several evenings previous greeted Evangelist Romig at the First Christian Church last night. He preached upon "The Essentials of Conversion." He first set forth the nonessentials of conversion, in that it is not necessary for a man either to be in a revival or alone in order to be converted. Neither is it necessary to have a vision or to see angels or to seek religion for years. Nor is an earthquake essential. The evangelist then set forth the "Essentials of Conversion." These, he claimed to be, hearing the gospel, believing it, repentance, confession of Christ and baptism by the authority of Christ. The sermon was illustrated by a large pictorial chart.

There will be services this evening and tomorrow there will be some special subjects, probably a sermon to young men in the evening.

A comical race began between the two crackagacks from New York. Bald passed the runner at the tape, with a broad smile at the press stand, but Murphy's till believes he won that fourth place. "Prunes have been the leading article orders received from Germany and England. In these markets prunes are selling at a considerable advance above parity with our prices for the same grades — that is, the price in London, for example, is far in excess of the price here, with the cost of carriage added. The demand during the past week has been chiefly for 46's to 56's, which are selling at 6 cents per pound in sacks. A careful canvass of the State shows that five-eighths of the prune crop has been shipped, and, with almost no imports, there ought to be no difficulty in disposing of every pound still on hand at good prices within the next few months.

The four sizes in sacks are now quotable in this market at 4 cents. There has, during the past week, been a good deal of speculative buying by local parties at prices which will enable them to sell at the prices quoted. It should be added that the Eastern merchants are not yet responding to the advance, not being able to see the reashould be added that the Passett met-chants are not yet responding to the advance, not being able to see the rea-son for the sudden bulge in prices. Beet-sugar Factories.

The parties who have been investigating the prospects for the establish ing of beet-sugar factories in the northern part of the State profess to be encouraged. It is announced that Claus Spreckels intends to build three factories at a total cost of about $1,000,000. It looks as if some people had plenty of confidence in the Cali-fornia beet-sugar industry, bounty or no bounty.

The Florida Orange Crop

Various reports have been received from Florida lately, in which differ-ent estimates are given of this year's orange crop. A recent report, which been widely copied throughout country, estimates the crop at about 100,000 boxes. According to a Florida paper, it will be even less than this. The Times-Union quotes a man who has recently been all through the orange section as saying that the crop will not be more than 60,000 boxes. Buyers in New Orleans, Bal-timore, Cincinnati, Cleveland and New York have purchased 40,000 boxes, leaving only about 20,000 now available.

Wine Versus Raisins.

The low price of raisins in the San Joaquin Valley and the improved price of wine in the northern part of the State, have combined to induce growers of raisin grapes in the neighborshood of Free o to ship a considerable quantity of their product to the North for the purpose of making wine. This should tend to further improve the price of raisins, which has been some-what strengthened by the action of the Fresno vineyardists in generally neglecting to cure the second crop of grapes. The Fresno Republican, in a recent issue, has the following to say on this subject:

"The shipment of grapes from Fresno county to the wineries in the North has reached proportions this year never approached before. For some days past there have been from 100 to 150 tons a day sent to Sacramento. The reason for the activity in this line is two or threefold. In the first place, the price of certain kinds of wines is better than for a long time past, and the demand is good. In the next place, the wineries about Sacramento and Stockton cannot obtain enough grapes in this vicinity to meet their demand. In the third place, the raisin-growers are not making raisins of second-crop grapes, and these are offered cheap to the wine men. Other causes might be enumerated, chief of which is that the railroad has given a low rate on grapes to Sacramento and Stockton, and the freight is not the drawback it formerly was. This rate was $3.25 to Stockton and $4 to Sacramento, but it has been cut to $2.85 to both points from Fresno. The impression that grapes are sent north and there made into wine because freight on wine to the East is less from there than from Fresno is erroneous."

Mexican Oranges

Mexican oranges are make their appearance in the Eastern markets, and are bringing good prices. A correspondent of the Fruit Trade Journal says that two cars of Mexican oranges made their appearance at Chl-cago early this month. One car sold at $3.45. This fruit is packed in the regulation Florida box, imported to Mexico from Bangor, Me., by the shippers The packages are very attractive, and the fruit is well packed. The color is not high, but the fruit is sweet. The general verdict of the trade at Chicago is that, in general appearance and tex-ture, these oranges are nearer the Mediterranean fruit than any other orange

Recently a long report from some of the Southern California Horticultural Commissioners was published in the papers of this section, giving a most unsatisfactory account of the work done by the rhizobius, which preys upon the black scale.

To those who have watched the determined opposition which has shown in certain quarters to the introduction of this and other parasites, the report in question seems suspicious. It evidently impressed Mr. Craw, the State entomologist, in the same manner, to judge from the following article, which recently appeared in the San which recently appeared in the San Francisco Chronicle:

"State Entomologist Craw does not agree with the report of the Horticultural Commissioners of San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange counties, which appeared in the Chronicle on Saturday, relating to a species of ladybird sent to clear out the black scale from the orchards of those counties. The results as observed by the commissioners are so much at variance with the results in other places that Mr. Craw does not believe they have fully considered the matter or have seen the work accomplished by the ladybirds.

"Some time ago a colony of ladybirds was sent to one of the commissioners, whose name is attached to the report, Three weeks after receiving the colony the man wrote back that his orchard was as badly affected as before and that the ladybirds had failed to do the work. From the immediate neighborhood, notably from the orchard of that the ladybirds had failed to do the work. From the immediate neighborhood, notably from the orchard of Alfred Wright in San Bernardino county, Mr. Craw has received the most satisfactory letters, showing the ladybirds have done their work well. In fact, from all over the State comes a similar report, as shown by the letters on file in the office of the State Board of Horticulture. Mr. Craw sententiously sizes up the situation as follows: "The scale and the ladybird are so much alike in appearance that it requires some knowledge of both to tell which is which."

The Times has frequently called the

The Times has frequently called the attention of fruit-growers in this sec-tion to the fact that a determined effort is being made to mislead the public in regard to the work of these scale parasites and to throw obstacles in the way of their support. The reason for this is obvious. The work of spraying orchards is a costly one, involving the expenditure of a large amount of money which would be saved if para-sites are found to destroy the scale. Those who are interested directly or indirectly in the sale of sprays and washes are naturally not anxious to see the parasites successful. This is all there is to it.

By a recent bulletin from the Texas Experiment Station, at College Station, Brazos county, we learn that at the McKinney Culture Station 215 varieties of wheat were planted and the results compared with the common Mediterranean variety. Relative to the outcome of the experiment, bulletin 34 says:
"We found 57 varieties that equal or exceed the yield of common Mediterranean. All of the 215 varieties planted were given the same conditions in every respect. Castor Beans.

(American Cultivator:) The success which many people have in growing the castor bean in private gardens naturally leads them to think there may be a large profit in it when grown extensively for seed and oil. The plant requires a long season and very rich soil. It is a difficult crop to harvest, requiring peculiar machinery to get the beans out of their pods. Farmers on rich land in Missouri and Kansas grow considerable quantities of castor beans. They find a market in St. Louis, where the oil is pressed out. This rempires expensive machinery, and unless a market can be assured for your castor beans it will prove a losing business to grow them. We have known propie to use the castor bean as a purgative. It is much more pleasant to take than castor oil, and is equally effective, as it contains a large proportion of oil. But this use would not make market for more than are grown on plants kept for show in the garden. It is a very showy plant when it has a soil rich enough to grow to large size. Castor Beans

Waste of Irrigating Water.

Waste of Irrigating Water.

(California Fruit Grower:) It is becoming known to water companies and to careful irrigators as well, that whenever water is plentiful and cheap, too, much of it is used by the average irrigator.

Valuable investigations have recently been made at the Utah Experiment Station, according to its annual report, to learn about what amount of water is used by irrigators in that Territory, and the results are somewhat surpri ing. In this connection the report says. "By measuring a large number of irrigating canals and ascertaining the area of land watered by each, it was found that the Utah farmers, and particularly those who own primary water the same of the sa area of land watered by each, it was found that the Utah farmers, and particularly those who own primary water rights, were diverting during the irrigating period sufficient water to cover the area irrigated to a depth of from three to six feet."

Investigations as to the amount really required for the production of good crops under more economical management, were also undertaken by the station, and the result was equally surprising. It was thus learned that from four to thirty-six acre-inches of water would produce equally as good crops as were previously grown with from two to eighteen times as much water. The average amount of water required for good crops was found to be sixteen acre-inches for the season, or the equivalent of sixteen inches of rainfall during the crop-growing period. ing the crop-growing period.

ferring to this great loss of water the report states:
"Until this enormous waste in the available water supply is prevented, there can be little increase in the agricultural products of the Territory."
The station management announce that during the coming year experiments will be made in the direction of preventing so great a loss of water by scepage and evaporation, and such work should be commended by every irrigation interest in the country.

San Diego Pineapples.

(San Diego Union:) A source of wealth seems to be found in growing pineapples in the frostless section surrounding San Diego Bay. Experiments have been conducted by Riley R. Morrison for the past four years in growing the luscious fruit in his gardens in this city, and he has met with the most gratifying success. He regaled a few friends yesterday with a big apple that could not have been excelled for delicious flavor, juiciness and aroma. It weighed six pounds and measured 25½ inches in circumference the long way and 18 inches the short way. Mr. Morrison gave some valuable information concerning the growing of the fruit in this climate.

"This is the Porto Rico variety," he said, "and comes from Cuba. It is the first fruit of the plant, which is 3½ years old. Next year the fruit will be twice as large. This and five other varieties have grown in the open air here, having no protection in winter, and I have found that the fruit can be matured here at all seasons of the year. The only months when we cannot have home-grown pineapples, so far as my experience goes, are March and April. Some of the finest varieties ripen in February, while this Porto Rico ripens in September.

February, while this Porto Rico ripens in September. "Having studied the nature of the fruit in this climate, I have apples in bearing ten months in the year, and with no more care or work than raising ordinary vegetables. It has, however, taken four years of experimentation to be able to thoroughly understand and cultivate them in this climate. One great advantage, I find, is in being able to control the water supply while the fruit is ripening. By cutting off water the apples can be ripened like a half-dried fig and may be hang up in the house two or three weeks without intury. This also allows them to be shipped as far as New York without decay, though perfectly ripe. When raised in the tropics there are generally seven shipped as far as New York without occay, though perfectly ripe. When raised in the tropics there are generally seven inches of rain each month during the ripening season, and they begin to decay as soon as ripe, owing to the excess of water. In this respect our dry California summer climate enables us to produce a finer quality than we could bring from the tropics. I believe also that we can produce as large-sized fruit.

that we can produce as large-sized fruit.

"About five of the hardlest varieties need no protection in winter in the bay region of San Diego. The valleys are a little too chilly, while the mesas are a little too chilly, while the meass are even better than the bay region. By observing a few simple rules, pineapples can be grown here with as little trouble as raising potatoes. Within the next two years I think most of the gardens in San Diego will be growing pineapples for home consumption along with fruits from the temperate zone. with fruits from the temperate zone.

There is big money in the business. I am offered $1.50 for every apple I can raise of this size, and one acre will grow 5000 plants."

A Cannery Run by Women A Cannery Run by Women.
(Winnsboro S. C., News and Herald:)
If there is an institution deserving mention it is the Ladies' Cannery of Winnsboro. In a grove near the residence of Capt. H. A. Gaillard, on his premises, the building where the goods are packed is situated in a pleasant, shady, and retired spot. It was "our man's" first visit to the place, and after looking around he felt that he had seen something deserving of special mention. Mrs. H. A. Gaillard is president, manager, superintendent, and, in fact, runs the business.

The manner of preparing the vegetables for canning will doubtless interest many of our readers, so we will give freely a description of the process.

First in the matter is a large boiler set in brick, the water in the boiler be-ing brought from the branch, a distance of about seventy-five feet, by means of an ejector or steam nume, as it which an ejector or steam pump, as it might be called. The steam in the boiler is kept about fifty pounds pressure. From this boiler there is a pipe which empties into a large zinc vessel; the tomatoes are let down in this boiling water by means of a wire cloth vessel. When steamed enough for the peeling means of a wire cloth vessel.

When steamed enough for the peeling to come off they are pulled up by a rope and wheel. This is the first step concerning tomatoes. They are then emptied into a large flat trough, on either side of which is sitting on two long benches a lot of pretty girls, who commence at once to pick out a quantity, and the peeling and cuilling commences. benches a lot of pretty girls, who commence at once to pick out a quantity, and the peeling and culling commences. The peelings and refused parts are pushed down this sloping trough and emptied into a vessel at the lower end. This vessel is emptied into cattle troughs about a hundred yards away, when the well-groomed cows seem to relish them. The tomatoes after being peeled and culled, are taken to another table and are mixed (when desired) with okra, which has gone through the steaming process, also, in a wooden barrel. The okra is chopped up, but the tomatoes are put in the cans whole, as they command a better price when whole. After the cans are filled they are wiped off and a tin plate put over the whole. The soldering iron is at once applied and the cans are sealed up. A small punch hole is left in the center of the end of the can, in order that the air may be driven out by the action of hot water into which the cans are submerged half their depth. When the air is driven out through the small nole, it is closed with solder and the cans are let down into another vessel of boiling water and remain a given time by the clock. The whole lot are at once lifted into another framed basket, and are hoisted upstairs to be labeled. The entire lifting is done with a crane and derrick, and a very small girl will raise them easily.

Everything goes on with military exactness, and each one shows that she knows what to do and when to do it. We asked Mrs. Gaillard if they went to work about 8 o'clock. She repilled: "At 8 o'clock; not about."

The pluck of each and every one of our fair young ladles is commendable; they would put the men of Winnsboro to shame to see how unreservedly they lay hold and work with a will. A man would ask for a machine at once; in fact, our reporter was inventing machines in his mind while these busy hands were doing the work. But this is the way, woman goes ahead and does a piece of work while a man is hunting an easy way to do it.

The goods manufactured by our tadies command as good prices as any in the market, and they meet all competition. Some of them have been shipped to Guatemala.

The Fight Over Fruit Shipments The Fight Over Fruit Shipments.

(San Francisco Chronicle:) One of the most ludicrous and disastrous traffic fights in which the Southern Pacific ever engaged has just drawn to a close, and the company now finds itself in the embarrassing position of having induced two of its Eastern connections to invest thousands of dollars in a wenture which proved a signal failure. The Traffic officials of the Southern Pacific Company were inspired last spring to undertake a vigorpus fight for a share of the East-bound green fruit business, hitherto handled almost exclusively by the refrigerator companies. There were several conferences up in the general office of the company, and the more it became apparent that the Southern Pacific could, with a little ingenuity, control all the green fruit shipments and freeze the refrigerator companies out of the game. Fruit-growers have been paying refrigerator charges of $125 per car to the refrigerator companies, besides freight charges to the railroad companies for the shipment of their fruit to Chicago, and the traffic officials figured that a wast ventilator-car service would be so alluring to the California fruit-growers that they companies for the shipment of their fruit to Chicago, and the traffic officials figured that a vast ventilator-car service would be so alluring to the California fruit-growers that they would readily patronize the ventilator cars, had handled over 1400 carloads out of a total of 6250 carloads of green fruit shipped East the preceding season, and it proceeded to enlarge its equipment so that it might handle 5000 carloads during the approaching season. J. C. Stubbs and C. D. Smurr went East and induced the Union Pacific and the Chicago and Northwestern to get into the deal. It was arranged that each of the three lines should contribute its quota of refrigerator cars for the handling of the immense traffic. The Southern Pacific agreed to furnish 700 new cars, and the other lines agreed to furnish 1200 between them. These 2000 new cars, together with the old cars belonging to the Southern Pacific would be sufficient, it was believed, to handle 5000 carloads of fruit during the season, or 6000 if necessary. The Southern Pacific placed its order for 700 cars with the Fullman Company at Chicago, and before the green fruit season opened the cars began arriving from the East. By the end of June the sidetracks in all the fruit-shippers' centers of the Sacramento Valley were blocked with empty ventilator fruit cars.

The three lines fixed up a schedule by which the trains were to be run through from Sacramento.

While all these preparations were going on the refrigerator companies were not idle. They reduced their refrigerator charges from $125$ to $90$ a car between Sacramento and Chicago, and sent agents out to hustle for business. Up to July 15, just $15$ carloads of green fruit had been sent out, and of this number thirty carloads were handled by the Southern Pacific Company in its ventilator cars.

The officials in the freight departventilator cars.

The officials in the freight department of the Southern Pacific were discouraged by this showing and threatened to withdraw the ventilator cars if the service was not better patronized. The war against the refrigerator companies was pushed to the end, however, and the statistics of the season's work show a lamentable condition of affairs. From figures compiled in the general freight office of the Southern Pacific Company, it is learned that 4300 carloads of fruit were shipped East during the season, of which the Southern Pacific handled less than seven hundred in its ventilator cars. The fight for the green fruit business was disastrous from a Southern Pacific point of view. The company handled less than cnehalf the number of carloads hauled during the season of 1894, and could not keep its old ventilator cars busy, let alone the 2000 new cars sent out from the East.

Smurr declared at the beginning of the season that the company would handle not less than 5000 carloads in ventilator cars. than 5000 carloads in ventilator cars. When the season was half over he compromised on 2000 carloads. Now he explains the failure of his expectations by saying that the crop was short. Speaking about the matter yesterday, he said that the cold weather and hot winds which prevailed early in the season were responsible for the short crop.

winds which prevailed early in the season were responsible for the short crop. "The fruit crop," he said, "was ruined by the same influences which curtailed the grain yield. The fruit sent East this season was 2000 carloads short of the amount shipped last season."

But that is not the only thing which is worrying the Southern Pacific, the Union Pacific and the Chicago and Northwestern. They are wondering what they can do with 2000 empty ventilator fruit cars between now and next summer.

of Los Angeles are about to combine for mutual protection. This announce ment, following close on the raid that is being made on adulturated milk, naturally leads to the inquiry: "For what purpose are they co-operating?" The dairymen of this section certainly cannot afford to indorse those who adulterate their product. They should rather lend all possible assistance to the authorities in bringing them to justice and maintaining the quality of the milk sold at a high level.

Milk Prices Advanced.

(Pacific Rural Press:) The outside producers of milk for city sale have awakened to the fact that now is the time for them to strike for their milk stools and their firesides. Dockery is becoming a sort of dairy Moses and is leading upright milkmen to a promised land they have hitherto hardly dared to dream of. We noted last week the advance in milk by the city association. Now the Marin county teat-squeezers have arisen to right all their wrongs. As one of them said the other day at a meeting at Saussilto: "We may as well make a general clean-up right at present. The Country Dairymen's Association, or whatever it may called, is hereby launched in business in a fair business way." They have therefore advanced milk from 10 to 12½ cents per gallon, imposed a fine of $500 for the punishment of any member who is tempted to take less, provided that the city dealers must pay for their milk before the 20th of each month and arceity dealers must pay for their milk-before the 20th of each month and ar-ranged for constitution and bylaws looking toward a permanent organiza-tion. Milk producing at 10 cents per gallon has not paid proper profit and reform is the word.

The whole matter is now solved, and the pest can be banished so easy and simple, it puts to blush all the patent powder-makers.

My recent travels, in quest of items of interest to my readers, have taken me to the experimental farm of more than one Southern State, and I have seen with my own eyes the wholesome results of this dipping process, under advice of the Agricultural Department at Washington, applied to a dozen different breeds, and all ages, and I will tell you in a few words how to clear out all the lice by dipping the chickens. Poultry a Cheap Luxury.

(Farm News:) Just why poultry should be regarded as one of the luxuries to be reserved for special occasions, in so many farmers' families, it would be rather hard to decide. A pound of poultry can be produced by the farmer as cheaply as a pound of beef, mutton or pork, and there is no good reason why poultry should not be found very often on the farmer's table. It is just as profitable to eat the poultry and sell the pork and a great deal more wholesome, for as a nation we eat entirely too much pork for the general good. The most of the pork eaten is principally fat, and this does not add to the health or strength of the consumer nearly as much as the consumption of an equal amount of poultry would. With a supply of chickens, ducks, turkeys and geese the farmer could have a variety in the way of meat food that makes it possible for the cook to add much to the attractions of the table. Pork is hard to digest, and this makes it so much the more unfit for use when hard work is pushing the farmer, for all the energy uselessly wasted in digesting food is lost in the amount of work one is able to perform. Poultry of all kinds is easily digested, and though the results of the work one is able to perform. Poultry of all kinds is easily digested, and though the results of the work one is able to perform. Whey is not a perfect ration and it is often said by farmers that a pig fed on it exclusively will starve. But so, too, would a pig fed on fine wheat flour. The difficulty with both foods is that they are too exclusively carbonaceous. The carbon in the whey is mostly sugar. When this ferments it is turned to alcohol and has no nutritive value. Fine wheat middlings or ground oats cooked and mixed with fresh whey make a good ration either for growth or fattening. The Horse Show.

The Horse Show.

(Pacific Rural Press.) As the date of opening the great horse show at the Mechanic's Pavilion draws near, public interest in the event event increases. The directors of the association met at the beginning of this week to review the situation and, in order to extend the benefits of the show to all the owners, breeders and others concerned with fine horses, decided to extend the date for closing entries until Saturday, November 16, when the list will be finally made up. The New York horse show has been in progress this week, and after ten years of work it has ben proved that the institution is of vast assistance in creating the best sort of market for good horses. The same thing will be seen on this Coast from now on, and every breeder in the country should support the San Francisco exhibition to the utmost of his ability. As a society function the show stands pre-eminent, but to maintain a reputation for solid practical uesfulness it needs the support of that portion of the landed interest which concerns itself with horse-breeding. It is estimated that there are some $25,000,000 invested in that industry in our State, and a heavy annual expenditure under the same head. Every good stallion of whatever kind should be afforded an opportunity of establishing and extending his reputation by being put into the ring at the Mechanic's Pavilion. No finer advertisement can be availed of, and breeders in every way are served by shows of this kind.

Electric-car Conductor Responsible for Kirk's Death.

In the opinion of the Coroner's jury, Electric Car Conductor A. L. Nichols is responsible for the death of J. W. Kirk, the veteran printer who died at his home in Vernot. Thursday morning. The jury found that Kirk's death was due to a fracture of the skull, caused by a fall, which resulted from his being struck in the face by an electric car conductor on the evening of October 23.

the conductor seemed to use unnecessary force and violence in putting Kirk off the car, and struck him in the face after he had reached the ground, the force of the blow causing him to fall violently upon the back of his head in the street.

All the provocation the conductor appeared to have was that when he put off Kirk's little dog, Kirk said: "Don't kick that dog. He is a better dog than you are a man." When the conductor stopped the car to put Kirk off, the latter said: "You needn't put me off. I'll get off myself like a man." But Nichols took him by the shoulders and put him off by force. Kirk resisting to the extent of grabbing a post and holding on until his hold was broken and he was forced to the ground, after which the conductor struck him the blow which knocked him down.

None of the witnesses heard any particularly profane or offensive language used by Kirk, but at least one of them testified that Kirk was intoxicated and inclined to be very talkative.

No witnesses were examined in Nichols's interest, although Attorney R. A. Ling was there as his counsel. Superintendent J. J. Akin of the electric road was also present.

Nichols weserved the announcement of the verdict coolly, evidently having expected no different result.

Nichols was arraigned in Justice Morrison's court for murder. His bail was fixed at $10,000 and his examination was Actorney Oliver Sues Chief of Police Glass.

B. L. Oliver, attorney for McKenzie, the one-armed hobo who was arrested some weeks ago on the charge of having inveigled a man named Cronin to Pico Heights and robbed him, has brought suit against Chief of Police Glass to recover $5.75 alleged to belong to McKenzie, and $25 costs.

The confession being ruled out, there was no evidence upon which to convict McKenzie, and he was discharged.

Attorney Oliver then made a formal demand on the Chief for the money taken from McKenzie at the time of his arrest. The Chief had no personal knowledge of the matter, but on investigation found that the money had been turned over to the man who was supposed to be its rightful owner, by order of the Police Court Judge. The only way in which the Chief could return the money to McKenzie would be to pay it out of his own pocket. He refused to do this, hence Mr. Oliver's suit.

NEW ORGANIZATION

Of the Y.M.C.A. Suggested for Pasadens.

At a meeting of the Membership Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association in the rooms of the ortian Association in the rooms of the organization Thursday evening, J. R. Speares of San Francisco, State secretary, was present, and made some valuable uggestions. The scope of the association at present and plans for enlarging its field of usefulness were earnestly discussed, and the decision was reached that Pasadena affords material for an association which shall be a power in the community, which shall aid young men to lead a Christian life, stimulate them in mental culture, and give them social advantages which shall fill a long-felt need. To do this, $3000 is needed, and it is thought that one-half that sum can be obtained from membership fees, and the balance by subscription. A first-class reading-room, fitted up comfortable the balance by subscription. A first-class reading-room, fitted up comforta-bly, with pictures on the wall and good reading matter on the tables, and fur-nished with a reference library, is one of the features contemplated. This will be supplemented by educational. classes of various kinds, and there will be parlors where entertainment of a social character will be provided. A gymnasium and athletic department, conducted under the rules of the Lyconducted under the rules of the Lyceum League, and a concert and lecture course will also be included in the educational features.

The work of securing the funds for The work of securing the funds for these improvements will begin at once, and there is little doubt but that it will meet with a hearty response in this community, where every good work receives ample support. The Young Men's Christian Association, being non-sectarian, commends itself to the sympathy of all, and as the membership fee is of the "limited" kind, is placed within the reach of all. A bathroom is to be added to the accommodations of the reorganized association, and of the reorganized association, and several other minor features will probably be included. Monday evening there is to be a formal organization for the work outlined at the Thursday-evening meeting.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

DISCUSSION ON THE PREVENTION

Pasadena Dairies and Chinese Wash houses to be Inspected by the Health Officer-Measures Taken for the Disposal of Garbage.

The meeting of the Board of Health, called for Thursday evening, in the office of Dr. Rowland, did not result in the assembling of a full board. Dr. Rowland presided, and Dr. Black was requested to give a synopsis of the paper recently read before the Shakespeare Club on the subject of "The Prevention of Consumption." After the subject had been presented it was very thoroughly discussed, and the the subject had been presented it was very thoroughly discussed, and the opinion was brought forth that the time is not yet ripe for the taking of thorough measures against. the spread of that dread disease, although it was the sense of the members present that some material improvement could be made in the sanitary condition of Pasadena. The suggestion that dairy cows, and cows whose milk is sold for consumption should be inspected, was heartily sanctioned, and the Health Officer was empowered by the board to and cows whose milk is sold for consumption should be inspected, was heartily sanctioned, and the Health Officer was empowered by the board to inspect all dairies, and where he finds the condition of the yards and stables unsanitary, and the food given is not such as to insure pure milk, the officer shall condemn the product of such dairies.

Individuals who are cognizant that cows whose milk is sold for food are not kept in a cleanly condition, or that they are kept confined without proper air, sunlight and exercise, are requested to notify the Health Officer, that he may personally investigate.

It is said that in the wet season, especially, there is great neglect in these particulars, and it is the intention of the Board of Health to check such carelessness, and to insure to the people of Pasadena pure milk. The subject of Chinese wash-houses was taken up and thoroughly discussed. It was said that efforts had been made to force the owners of premises of that sort to connect with the sewer, and that as the Mayor of the city owns one of them, and the water used in it is thrown upon the ground, and sometimes runs over the pavement of the street upon which it is located, it was naturally supposed that he attention of the Council would be directed toward the wash-houses, and the improvements in their sanitary condition which are needed would result, but such expectations have not, so far been fulfilled.

The board condemned in unmeasured

but such expectations have not, so far been fulfilled.

The board condemned in unmeasured terms the policy now pursued in regard to Chinatown. It is said that it is a disgrace to Pasadena that within the city limits there should exist a quarter which is used as a common dumping-ground for rubbish, and the vacant lots in Chinatown are so utilized. Almost within a stone's throw of the operahouse, and in plain sight of incoming trains and electric cars, are cartloads of tin cans and other rubbish, deposited within the limits, and left as an eyeof the cans and other rubbish, deposited within the limits, and left as an eyesore. It is only a question of time when the city must provide some means of taking care of its garbage, and, on sanitary grounds, that time should be the present.

Thanksgiving Exercises.

Thanksgiving Exercises.

The Thanksgiving exercises at the various public schools today were largely attended by the parents and friends of the children, and were interesting and creditable in every instance. At the Lincoin school there were special exercises in many of the grades, and the appeal of the teachers that the pupils, amid their pienty, should remember the poor and strive to do something to make Thanksgiving a happy day for them, met with a hearty response. Very large contributions of clothing, food and money were donated, and turned over to the Good Samaritan Society for distribution. At the Wilson High school the following programme was charmingly rendered by the eleventh-year pupils:

Song, by the school, "The Pligrim Fathers;" recitation, Grace Tower; guitar duet, Miss Weingarth and Mr. Kelso: essay, "The Free University," Glenn Allen; solo, Miss Juha Ogden; reading, Miss Terpenning; plano duet, Misses Magee and Reed; essay, "History of Pasadena Public Schools," Miss Hoose; pantomine, "The Extremities of a Line are Points;" plano solo, Miss Edith Brush; essay, "Ships that Pass in the Night." Death of Alexander Munro.

Alexander Munro, special agent of the Equitable Life Insurance Company, died I huvsday evening at his late residence, No. 42 Mentor avenue, of a complication of asthma and tuberculosis. Mr. Munro was well known to the business community, having lived in Pasadena a little over a year, and pursuing his calling until within a few days of his death. He was born in London, Can., in March, 1857, and at the time of his decease was 38 years of age. Nine years ago he married Miss Ghenke, also of London, and his widow and two children, the youngest, a babe of seven months, survive him. Mr. Munro left Canada six years ago, severing then his connection with the Grand Trunk road, by which corporation he had been previously employed, the fallure of his health necessitating his removal to a milder climate. He was a resident of Denver for three years, being connected there with the Ingersoll Investment Comput. The funeral vil be held Sunday at the family residence, the remains being afterward sent to London for internet.

Southern Pacific Depot.

C. P. Huntington and party came out this morning and made an inspection of the Southern Pacific depot, the lower floor of which may now be considered fairly finished. Prof. Lowe met the party at the depot and gave its members a cordial invitation to visit Mount Lowe, but the time of the visit Mount Lowe, but the time of the visit here was limited to an hour and a half, and consequently the invitation could not be accepted. Following Mr. Huntington's train, E. Hawley, general traffic manager, of the Southern Pacific at New York, arrived in Pasadena, and there was a thorough inspection of improvements here. It is a matter of just pride to the company, as well as to the citizens of Pasadena, that this depot is one of the handsomest in Southern Californis. It is complete in every respect, and the little park which is now being laid out adjoining the depot will add largely to its attractiveness.

A tailor, who had by some means lost the combination on the gasoline sfove, tried to light it and set fire to the paper on the wall. As it was but a short distance from the engine-house, the department arrived in time to extinguish the fire with the chemical apparatus, before it had made much headway.

CARLISLE'S PLAN. The Investor publishes a synopsis of a New York World's editorial in reference to the plan which it is generally believed will be recommended by Secretary Carlisle in his coming report for the retirement of all greenbacks. It is stated that the Secretary maintains that, so long as the greenbacks exist under a law which makes them redeemable in gold and at the same time compels their re-issue, a secure gold reserve can never be maintained.

This new currency would have the general assets of the banks for its security, and the banks would be required to contribute to a guarantee fund with which the government could redeem the notes of any falled bank. The World suggests that Congress, early in the session, create an expert commission to study the entire subject and report a measure that will represent the best financial wisdom the country commands.

OIL VERSUS COAL. The receipts of coal at San Francisco by water for ten months this year are reported as follows: Alaska, 1050 tons; Eastern, 17,-087; Oregon, 37,955; Puget Sound, 342,374; Australia, 174,890; English, 110,440; Welsh, 5892; Japan, 5697, and British Columbia, 441,484. Total, 1,136,869 tons. The receipts from the Mt. Diablo mrines are not given. Of this total quantity nearly two-thirds, or 738,403 tons came from foreign ports.

At the present production of Los Angeles crude petroleum the oil-producers here could furnish nearly two-fifths of the equivalent of that quantity of coal in oil. This is on the basis of three and a half barrels of oil to one ton of coal. Estimating oil at 85 cents a barrel, laid down in San Francisco, and coal at the low average rate of 36 a ton, it is seen that if Los Angeles oil were used instead of coal it would mean, on equivalent quantities, a saving to San Francisco consumers of $1,042,160 for the ten months, or at the rate of over $1,50,000 a year.

EASTERN HONEY. According to the Boston New England Grocer, very little honey was gathered in the East this year. This was due to the unusually long drouth in many of the honey localities. Flowers were scarce and the bees seemed to get little honey from what flowers there were. In several parts of Pennsylvania there is danger, it is said, of the bees starving to death this winter. In many districts there was no honey to gather for market, the small quantity collected being needed by the bees for their can use.

Here in Southern California the honey crop this year was a fairly good one, and of good quality. As most of it is shipped East, the honey-makers here ought to get a good price for it.

CIGARETTES AND CANDY. One result of the Anti-Cigarette League recently formed in New York, is a reported increase in the consumption of candy. The chewing-gum men are also said to be reaping a rich reward from GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS.

AIDING THE FARMERS. One thing which the country is sorely in need of is the establishment of county organizations through which farmers could obtain, as they required it, financial assistance in short loans at rates of interest they could afford to pay. A property that was not yielding enough over all expenses to pay a reasonable rate of interest on such a loan would be ineligible, not being in a position to offer sufficient security for it. But for one in this unfortunate position there are, perhaps, nine out of ten who are not, and yet the owners of which could use to good advantage a small amount of ready money at harvesting time if they could procure it. The Contemporary Review in its last number, speaks of organizations of this character which have been established in Germany, and which have proved of the greatest benefit to the farmers of the country. Without going into details of the scheme, it is asserted that the system of small advances of money helped them to successfully tide over the disastrous effects of last year's drouth in that country. It is also stated that the German dairies and wine cellars depend, during periods of trial, for financial assistance on these organizations, or, as they are termed there, credit banks. As much as $150,000,000 is said pend, during periods of trial, for financial assistance on these organizations, or, as they are termed there, credit banks. As much as $150,000,000 is said to be loaned out every year to German farmers by these credit banks, and a single co-operative bank at Augsburg lends out annually $5,000,000. Results show that the money comes back with almost absolute safety, and that the losses on these agricultural loans are incomparably smaller than those on other loans. One bank is mentioned in Silesia which in fifteen years lost only $750 out of more than $32,000,000 loaned. The immediate advantage to the farmer of such assistance at or about harvesting time is that he is not compelled to realize on a portion of his crop at whatever he can get for it in order to get enough money to meet current expenses. This is too often the case, and what is worse, it frequently sets the price for the balance of his crop.

Bradstreet's Review.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Bradstreet's review of the stock market will say that gold shipments and the foreign political and financial complications have kept up a bearish tone in the specuulative market this week. The withdrawals of specie from the treasury for export to Europe have amounted to $7.350,000 and the treasury gold reserve is reduced to about $83,000,000. The strength of the exchange market indicates that the outflow is likely to continue, while it is considered improbable that the treasury will order another bond issue. Nor is there much hope of prompt action on the part of Congress. Wall street has not shown any unusual apprehension over the gold movement. It was influenced to a greater degree by the belief that liquidation at London and Paris in mining stocks aggravated by the fall in European government securities due to the crisis in Turkey would lead to a crash. This fear was lively at the beginning of the week. It was partially allayed by the more pacific aspect which the Eastern question has now assumed.

The check to general trade which has been consplcuous for the past few weeks still continues. Unseasonable mild weather and rains have intensified this feature which is more consplcuous South, where the decline in cotton and weeks still continues. Unseasonable mild weather and rains have intensified this feature which is more conspicuous South, where the decline in cotton and consequent check to shipments are held to be partly responsible. But the demand for staples increased with the appearance of seasonable cold weather, the result being larger orders for woolens, shoes, rubbers and holiday spectalties. Exports of wheat from both coasts of the United States and from Montreal this week (flour included as wheat) amount to 2,516,000 bushels, against 3,325,000 bushels last week; 3,312,000 in the week a year ago; 2,764,000 bushels in the week two years ago; 3,465,000 bushels three years ago and as compared with 4,082,000 bushels in the like week of 1891. Business failures show another marked increase, numbering 323 throughout the United States, against 289 last week and 295 in the week a year ago and 358 in the third week of November, 1893. In the corresponding week of 1892 the total was only 185. The bulk of the increase is in the Middle and Western States.

Dun's Weekly Review.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—R. G. Dunn & Co.'s weekly review of trade will to-morrow say that of reaction in business there is none. Efforts to explain it or attribute it to this or that temporary influence are all wasted. In every business, men. now perceive the fact that the purchases in advance of current distribution which were made when prices were booming, involved of necessity a season of halting when the rises stopped and until the actual demand for consumption have been measured. Products are lower without disturbance or sign of panic. The more sober estimates of wheat, months ago. rose 50,000,000 or more bushels above the government and speculative guesses, and now a reputable estimate of 475,000,000 bushels excites little remark. Western receipts of 23,415,874 bushels in three weeks against 12,314,674 last year are so persistent that prices have again declined about 1 cent, and Atlantic-exports (flour included.) are slightly less than a year ago for three weeks, 4,763,745 bushels against 4,349,214 last year. Corn declines ½ cent further. Pork products also have reason for weakening; lard, 15 cents per 100 pounds, and port 25. Dun's Weekly Review.

strike of house-workers here, and quite a number of mills, principally bar, have stopped within a few days. The associations reamirm prices, but do not sell enough to keep the works busy. Failures for the week have been 320 in the United States, against 322 last year, and 42 in Canada, against 31 last year.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Shares and Money.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The sterling exchange market is firm at an advance of 4d in actual rates for short bills. The supply of commercial bills continues very light. The actual gold engagements for tomorrow, up to 12:30 o'clock aggregate 44,600,000, including $1,500,000 in gold coin and $3,100,000 in bars. The change by most of the shippers from coin to bars is made for the reason that the bars are standard weight, which is not true of coin, and are more easily handled and less subject to abrasion. The amount of gold coin at the sub-treasury on November 1, over and above the amount required to cover outstanding gold certificates, was $38,500,000. That amount has been reduced by gold exports, not including engagements for Saturday's steamers, to approximately $3,500,000. The gold reserve on November 1 was, in round numbers, $93,000,000, and was reduced by recent shipments to $88,000,000. This week's exports, including the amounts so far announced for Saturday, will bring the gold reserve down to about $82,200,000. The total shipments for the week aggregate $7,350,000, and will involve a loss to the New York banks of about $7,000,000, which will be only partly reflected in tomorrow's bank statement. Gold Shipments.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The engagements of gold for shipment on Saturday, if anything, exceeded the most liberal expectation, yet that fact did not cause activity in the day's stock market, and it also failed to impart special weakness. The actual engagements of gold for tomorrow aggregates $3,100,000 in bars and $1,500,000 in bars ordered today had not been withdrawn up to the close of business. The total exports for the week will foot up $7,350,000 All of Saturday's outgo will not be reflected in the treasury reserve until Monday next. Neither will the full loss to the banks be indicated in tomorrow's statement of averages of the New York Associated institutions. Leading bankers express the opinion that a continuation of the gold exports will tend to harden the rates for money. Up to the present time, however, there has been no symptom of increasing strength in the market for funds. At the same time the demand has been very light. The tendency of the stock speculation for some time past has militated against activity in money. At the closing transactions liquidation in some of the industrial shares was apparent, and imparted a heavy tone at the finish. The only declines of importance occurred in some of the inactive shares. The market generally left off fractionally lower. Bonds held firm on sales of $925,000.

Lazard Freres will ship $1,250,000 gold tomorrow; W. H. Crossman & Bros., $1,000,000, and Heldelbach, Ickelheimer & Co., $750,000. Fuller, Scall & Co., have engaged $500,000 gold for export tomorrow. This makes the total thus far $4,500,000. The Assistant Treasurer and Superintendent of the Assay Office have been authorized by the Treasury Department to sell to gold exporters gold bars at $1.10. This covers the cost of melting the buillon linto coin.

LATER—Lazard Freres has decided to forward $500,000 gold shipment in gold bars.

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, Nov. 22.—The Commercial Bulletin will say of the wool market tomorrow that the market is dul, though for the last two or three days a better inquiry was manifest. The feature is the neglect of medium wools and firmness of fine fleeces. American fine fleece is aided by the alvance of Australian which competes with it. Many buyers are glutted with wool, and are waiting to see whether Congress will restore a duty. The sales of the week are 1,173,000 pounds domestic, and 1,522,000 pounds foreign last week, and 3,077,000 pounds foreign last week, and 3,077,000 pounds domestic, and 1,044,000 pounds foreign for the same week last year. The curse of alcoholic and vinous liquous is that they over-stimulate and create a morbid appetite for more. Peruvian Bitters, though composed largely of eld California Brandy, have no such effect. Ten Thousand Dollars to be Appropriated for Tunneling—Candidates for City Offices Beginning

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 22.-(Regu-SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 22.—(Regu-ar Correspondence.) The City Council it its meeting last evening decided to occept the report of the Committee on Yeater, composed of members of the founcil and Board of Trade. This com-nitite advised the appropriation of $10,-00 for the purpose of boring a tun-iel into the mountains to tap the Cold drawn Sarings. These surpuss are stream Springs. These springs are ound a short distance back of Monte-ito and about three miles from Santa Barbara. The appropriation of $10,000 s thought sufficient to enable the Counil to bore a tunnel to a depth of 1000 eet. Should the flow not be adequate, hen the Council will be asked to approcet. Should the flow not be adequate, then the Council will be asked to appropriate an additional amount to continue the tunnel another 1000 feet. It is thought that a sufficient flow will be secured from the tunnel of a thousand cet and that the cost of piping from the springs to the city will not be over 115,000. Of course the estimate is dependent upon the amount of flow secured, as this would determine the size of the main required. The City Engineer said that it might be necessary to go from 3000 to 4000 feet into the mountain, though this was not known lefinitely at this time. All necessary plans and specifications for this work will be prepared to be presented for the consideration of the Council at its meeting in December, and after this date bids for doing the work will be advertised for. It is not believed that work will be commenced before January. The property upon which the Cold Stream Springs are located is owned by Messrs. Sheffield and Eaton, and these gentlemen have deeded the property to the city.

President McDuffle, of the Board of Trade, expresses himself as gratified with the action taken by the City Council on the water question. He says that Pasadena has 27 inches of water, while Santa Barbara has to depend upon a flow of only twenty-seven inches, and that as such good results have been derived from tunneling in the immediate vicinity of this place, he sees no reason why the same should not be gained from a tunnel into the mountains back of Montecito. Mr. McDuffle also stated that Santa Barbara must have a good water supply or take the consequences of serious damage from fire in the future.

RAINBOW-CHASERS.

RAINBOW-CHASERS.

The committee having in hand the matter of securing the National Republican Convention for San Francisco met Faursday evening, but, owing to the presence of so few members of the committee, adjourned to, a future date, when an effort will be made to induce a large attendance. At the next meeting a committee will be appointed to solicit subscriptions. There seems to be a lack of interest in the convention movement here. From what cause this arises it is difficult to determine, other than it is thought unwise to traffic upon a subject that is of so vital importance to the nation. The citizens of Santa Barbara appreciate the great benefits that would be derived by California and Southern California in particular, but believe their interests can be advanced in more legitimate ways. Should, by some fortuitous circumstances, the convention come to San Francisco, Santa Barbara would prepare a flesta such as the has never known, as an inducement to the delegates to visit this section after the conclusion of their labors. Some interchange of thought has already taken place among the gentlemen in this movement upon the matter of a flesta, and they will be ready to carry out their ideas if San Francisco is successful.

Candidates for city offices are be-ginning to blossom forth. It is said that there are now twelve candidates for the position of Marshal, and one for Mayor. The election does not take place until April. Some of the conditates for the different offices will be fostered 'by the Good Citizenship Committe, which will take an actice part in the coming spring election. Marshal Hopkins, it is understood will be un for realection. stood, will be up for re-election. Clar-ence Kelton, who has-been long a resi-dent of Santa Barbara, it is reported, will be a candidate for the position of Marshal. Mr. Southwick is also men-tioned in this connection. Mr. Ged-dings is spoken of for the Mayoralty. The Board of Trade petition for dings is spoken of for the Mayoralty. The Board of Trade petition for sidewalks on the graded streets was presented to the Council on Thursday. The Council took no action upon the petition, but it is generally understood that favorable action will be taken at the next meeting of the Council, hich will be in December. A system of sidewalks will be adopted, and gradually the city will be properly sidewalked.

The ladies connected with the Good Citizenship Committee are agitating the advisability of placing the condition of the prisoners in the County Jail on a better footing as regards their accommodations; as least so far as to giving them more space. As it is at present the prisoners are too many in one apartment.

the Riverside man who lost $20 in the vicinity of Henry Travilla's saloon on Third street, near E, only told half his story. He today made affidavit to the loss of over $60 in the last two days, and believes that the gang that frequents Travilla's place and the edjacent corner are responsible for his losses. After paying a fine this morning he had $125 left. Mr. Travilla objected to the statement made in the press in relation to the matter, and after Mr. Irvin was released this morning brought him to the Times-Index office to contradict the story. Instead of doing as Travilla requested, he made a statement under oath, corroborating substantially what had been said. This affidavit, with other facts, will be presented to the Board of City Trustees, and the revocation of Travilla's saloon license will be asked.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC EXTENSIONS.

C. P. Huntington was in this city to-day inspecting the said of the story. SANTA ANA, Nov. 22.—(Regular Correspondence.) It is an open secret that the law is violated without restraint between Santa Ana and Orange in the matter of selling liquors of various kinds by the drink and quantity, at one of the popular wineries. And this is not all. Reliable information has reached The Times' branch office that properly is freely taken in exchange for the drinks. Tramps who are at present infesting the valley with their presence gather up what they can lay their hands on when residents are out of the house or away from home, and take it at once to the above-referred to winery to exchange it for drinks of various kinds. After getting sufficiently warmed up they again sally forth on another foraging expedition, to get something to trade for more wine and liquor.

This state of affairs has existed for some time and the residents of the valley are beginning to protest against any such violation of law.

Attention of the proper authorities is respectfully called to the matter. The grand jury might find something of interest to it in the investigation,

CASE FOR THE GRAND JURY.

It has been an open secret for many Bernardino, Riverside, South Riverside and Pomona. Agents of the Southern Pacific are at work securing rights-of-way through Riverside to South Riverside, and it will not be long before the line now in operation from Redlands by way of San Bernardino to Riverside will be extended to Pomona. It is believed by many that the recent sale of the Highlands motor was really made to the Southern Pacific and will be incorporated into the general system of extension of the branch lines.

It has been an open secret for many nonths that gambling was running months that gambling was running rampant in a number of places in Santa Ana, but it has been permitted until the public generally is beginning to wink its eye knowingly when the subject is mentioned. Now that the grand jury is in session it might not be a bad idea for the matter to be investigated and checked, if not prohibited by the strong arm of the law.

SUIT BROUGHT AGAINST THE PER-

Contention that a Levy Was not Made on All the Property of the District—Wheelmen Entertained by Feminine Bicyclists—Notes.

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 22.—(Regular Correspondence.) The Perris Land Company, W. *F. Perry, L. E. Leeman, J. W. Vance, W. H. Miller and William Newport today commenced an action against the Perris Irrigation District, asking a decree setting aside the district taxes levied September 3, 1895, as sliegal, invalid and void, and praying that the district's tax-collector be prevented from collecting the same, and that the taxes be adjudged as not a lien upon the property in the district of the plaintiffs The grounds of the complaint are that the levy was not made on all the property of the district. For instance, the fetal valuation of the property of the district is $512,800, while the levy to raise interest on the bonds of the district was made upon property valued at only 496,800, which levy, to raise the required money, would make a tax of 4.97 on each $100 of valuation. The property excluded from the levy is property sold to the district for taxes, valued at $77,913, and the government Indian School property valued at $29,000. The Supreme Court having decided that such levies, under the Wright act, are assessments and not tax levies, it is claimed by the plaintiffa that even the government's eighty acres and the improvements thereon—the Indian School buildings—are not exempt from the levy.

Coming right on the heels of Perrine's comet discovered at the Lick observatory five days ago. It looks as if the annual average of comet discoveries would be made this year, if not already reached. The latest arrival will be known as comet D 1895, (Brooks) the remainder of the year. The others are comet A. (Switt.) comet B (Faye.) and comet C, (Perrine.) Comets A. C, and D were unexpected. Comet B is a periodic comet and was discovered by searching for it in accordance with a predicted ephemeris. Comet C is not visible from the Lowe observatory on account of the intervening mountains. Dr. Swift discovered four new nebulae on the night of November 20. In the constellation Piscls Australis, near the bright star Fomilhant. One of them is between two nebulae discovered by Sir John Herschel, but he falled to see either of them with his twenty-foot reflector at the Cape of Good Hope.

Dr. Swift recently discovered three other nebulae in the constellation Aquarius. He was looking for a comet which, according to the ephemeris, should be in the position of one of these. When he saw the nebula he supposed, as a matter of course, that it was the expected comet. But it remained stationary and in closely scanning the neighborhood he discovered two more nebulae directly below it and upon the same degree of longitude.

Points About "The Wisard of the Nile"-Ellen Terry's Marvelous Magnetism-An Actress Whom All Women Adore-The Story of an Emerald Necklace.

(CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 14, 1895.—A new comedian has struck Broadway. He is short, fat, pudgy, but wonderfully droll, and he has accomplished the herculean task of making a Broadway audence laugh for 150 consecutive minutes, vere commentary on the provincialism of the Broadway theater-goers than the fact that after the first act of "The Wizard of the Nile," at the Casino, not one, but many, members of the first-night audience, exclaimed, "Who is this Frank Daniels, anyway? I never heard night audience, exclaimed, "Who is this Frank Daniels, anyway? I never heard of him before, but he is great?" And this, if you please, was said of a comedian who has been before the public for more years than he would care to count. At the Fourteenth-street and the other combination theaters, Daniels has been a great favorite for many years. Who that has seen his "Little Puck" will forget his impersonation of the hero of Ansty's topsy-turvy tale. But to play at a New York combination theater is one thing, and to appear at a Broadway playhouse is quite another, as many a good ctor knows to his sorrow. New York managers have a bee in their bonnets to the effect that if they want to obtain a real novelty in the way of an actor, they must send to England or France for it. A greater mistake was never made. There are actors now appearing in road companies that can give cards and spades to most, if not all, the accepted Broadway favorites. Sooner or later some of them will reach New York, and the town will hail them all of a sudden. Why, even a

NEW SMALL-FRY ATTRACTIONS

IN TOWN. The past week has seen a fot of ew small-fry attractions in town. On The past week has seen a lot of new small-fry attractions in town. On Monday Peter Dailey came to the Bijou in "The Night Clerk." Frederick De Bellville, fatter than ever, appeared at the Stoddard in "Honor," and on Tuesday Marie Jansen appeared at the Garrick in "The Merry Countess." Irving has "The Corsican Brothers" inderlined for production, but the great success which "King Arthur" has secored will probably delay the performance. This play has proved once more the remarkable power of Ellen Terry as a drawing attraction. The part of Guinevere does not give her an opportunity to show her matchless powers as a comedienne, but it keeps her on the stage for the greater part of the evening, and gives her some exquisite scenes to interpret. The vogue of this woman amounts almost to an adoration. Ellen Terry is one actress of whom I have never heard another actress speak an unkind word. The women in the company fairly worshipher, and Julia Arthur, the American girl who now plays second parts to Miss Terry, said: "As long as I live. I shall never forget Miss Terry's kindness tome. Mind you, it was no easy thing for me, a comparative stranger to London, to fall into the ways of the Irving company at once. I shall never forget field in the way of the Irving company at once. I shall never forget field in the way of the Irving company at once. I shall never forget field in the way of the Irving company at once. I shall never forget hiss Terry's kindness to me. A month of a month of a must be sunshine came with her. She told me that I mustn't mind this, and I mustn't think anything about that, and before I knew this woman had imbued me with the idea that she and I as actresses, were on an equal footing, and if anything, I was the more experienced of the two. When Mr. Irving and then I realized that my fears were groundless. Mr. Irving, far from being an autocrat, was the gentlest and most painstaking stage manager that I had ever experienced. I consider it a pleasure as well as an honor to work for him." Monday Peter Dailey came to the Bi-

The name of Bronson Howard's play

The name of Bronson Howard's play, with which the Empire Stock Company with which the Empire Stock Company is to open its New York season, is still a mystery. In fact, all details with regard to the play are kept dark. From present appearances it looks as if the stock company would not appear at the home theater before the middle of January. Miss Nethersole, who was to begin a month's engagement at the Empire on December 2, will remain there for five weeks.

NAT GOODWIN DISGRUNTLED. and Goodwin finished his engagement at the Fifth Avenue last week, and will not return to New York for a long time. He feels that his New York crities were unnecessarily harsh in their treatment of his performance of David Garrick, and as "Ambition," Henry Guy Carleton's play, has not set Broadway on fire, the commedian is not feeling in partidularly fine fettle. It is to be hoped that Goodwin will not say away from New York long, for he is easily the best of American comedians, and his playwrights of this country owe a debt of gratitude, for he, more than any other actor now before the public, shows a willingness to produce their plays.

This seems to be a bad year for British attractions in New York. Iring's company is the only imported organization which is now doing a large business in New York. This seems rather unfortunate, as "The Shop Girl," and "His Excellency" companies contain some of the best singing and dancing coinedians that Engand has sent us in a long time. Even Irving's business has not been so phenomenally large as in former, years. This may be due to his having opened in "Macbeth," a play which does not suit his personality, and in which his enunciation is almost unintelligible. This strange mode of utterance of which Irving seems to be a past master is purely a mannerism which this great actor can shake off at will. In the criticisms of his performance his notices were so severe on this point that they worked a good effect immedidiately. At his second performance of "Macbeth" Mr. Irving's voice was as clear as a bell.

WILL HAMMERSTEIN OPEN?

The chief topic of conversation of the Broadway car just now is, wil the Broadway car just now is, will Hammerstein's Olympia be ready to open on Monday night? The general opinion seems to be that if any other man than Hammerstein were at the head of affairs the building could not open by any chance. But of late years this meteoric manager has proved himself to be a marvel in so many extraordinary ways that it is pretty safe to bank on his accomplishing anything which he guarantees to do.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicino for chil-dren. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing optim, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that recommend it as superior to any prescription

II. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y. "Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."
